Building Bond Resubmission Clears Senate

Marin Sen. McCarthy In Lonely Opposition

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO—With only Marin Sen. John F. McCarthy and one other Republican senator opposed, the State Senate has dropped the 270-million-dollar construction bond issue squarely in the lap of the Assembly.

The Senate approved 32-2 virtually the same measure (Prop. 3) the voters defeated by nearly a two to one in the June primary. The Assembly accepted it last night, assigned it to committee for hearing this afternoon. If passed and signed by the governor, it would appear on the November ballot as Proposition 1-A at the head of the list of propositions.

The legislation authorizes $102 million dollars for the University of California, 100 million for state colleges, 20 million for junior colleges and the remaining 48 million divided between the Department of Corrections, the Youth Authority and the Department of Conservation for construction of facilities.

Yesterday Republicans in the Senate attempted to split the bond issue. Sen. Donald Grunsky of Santa Cruz offered an amendment to the Gov. Brown-sponsored bill. It would have limited the bond issue to 216 million dollars exclusively for the university, colleges and junior colleges. He said he

Building Strike Settled —Work Crews On Job

New Contract Hailed Victory By Unions

Token work crews went back on the job today at major Marin building projects running into millions of dollars, which had been shut down since early May by a labor dispute.

Negotiators for Associated General Contractors and the AFL-CIO Hodcarriers, Construction and General Laborers Union late last night signed a new three-year contract, ending the strike and shutdown that had idled three and one-half billion dollars worth of projects in 49 Northern California counties.

In Marin, the shutdown's end meant about 250 idled building trades workers would be back on the job by tomorrow, said a Marin Building Trades Council spokesman. This includes about 100 members of the Laborers Union and 150 in other unions on jobs closed by the dispute.

The unions hailed the settlement as a victory.

The new contract provides for a 70 cents-per-hour package increase—the same which had been granted already by some contractors signing independently.

It will provide laborers with pensions and vacations, benefits they never had before under any Northern California contract.

Laborers, who received $3.22½ an hour under the old scale, won a 10-cent hourly wage increase this year and 15-cent increases for each of the next two years. Five cents an hour will be added to existing health and welfare benefits. The contract will expire June 15, 1965.

All pickets were called off construction jobs today, and during yesterday's negotiations Associated General Contractors members ended their lockout which was imposed May 11 in retaliation for the May 1 Laborers Union strike.

A labor spokesman in Marin said the settlement will "speed up all construction in the county, and everybody will be at work tomorrow."

The settlement with the Laborers Union is expected to set a pattern for new contracts with other building trades unions.

Immediate settlements were

U.S. Explodes Biggest Bomb In Test Series

WASHINGTON (AP) — A shot which may have been the biggest so far in the U.S. nuclear test series in the Pacific was set off today near Christmas Island.

The announcement from the Atomic Energy Commission and the Department of Defense described it only as being "in the megaton yield range."

There have been two previous tests in the Pacific series which were reported as having a low megaton yield, which would mean not much more than one million tons of a conventional explosive.

An AEC spokesman was asked the significance of the fact that the modifier "low" did not appear in today's announcement.

He declined to specify whether megaton yield means more or less than low megaton.

All he would say was that it means equivalent to from one to several million tons of TNT.

Space Shot Flop Injures Workmen

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Two workmen received minor scratches from falling bits of a booster rocket deliberately exploded over Johnston Island June 19 in an unsuccessful effort to set off a nuclear device in space, the Defense Department said today.

A Pentagon spokesman said the injuries were so minor they were not reported to officials of the nuclear test task force and did not require treatment.

The fact that the men had received the scratches he added, was not known on June 19 when the government issued a statement saying there had been no injuries as a result of the test.

The spokesman said it was not until two days later that officials learned that pieces of the Thor rocket had bounced up and scratched the men after hitting the ground near them. They were not identified.

The men had not taken cover as they were supposed to do, he said.

Earlier, eyewitnesses to the test were quoted as saying that several technicians suffered minor injuries when debris rained down on them.

The rocket and its megaton warhead were destroyed minutes after the launching because of a "malfunction." The test was scheduled for an altitude of between 100 and 500 miles.

The witnesses said some of the debris weighed more than 100 pounds, and that there would have been "extensive casualties" had not most of the Johnston Island workers been evacuated earlier by boat and taken to a safe distance offshore.

Everyman II Anchored In Legal Loophole

HONOLULU (AP)—Three California pacifists have taken advantage of a legal loophole in a federal injunction and have sailed their two-masted protest vessel inside the designated Johnston Island nuclear test danger area.

"They just sailed inside the 530-mile zone, hove to and dropped their sails," the Coast Guard said yesterday. It was the second time the Coast Guard reported the ketch, Everyman II, inside the test zone.

The first time, Monday night, its crew sailed out again.

In Honolulu, U.S. Atty. Herman T. F. Lum said the government was powerless to move immediately against the craft and its crew, Dr. Monte Steadman, 41, Corte Madera; Franklin Zahn, 54, Pomona; and C. George Benello, 36, Berkeley.

Lum said the preliminary injunction issued Friday forbidding the Everyman to sail into the danger zone failed to note that the zone had been extended from 470-mile radius to 530 miles.

Suit Attacks Mill Valley Ordinances

A suit on behalf of four Enchanted Knolls property owners, charging the City of Mill Valley with passing two discriminatory ordinances, was prepared for filing today in State Supreme Court by attorney Peter Hunt of San Francisco.

Petitioners are Eugene C. Harter and Warner R. Odenthal of Oakland, Sherrill Broudy of San Francisco, and John A. Alexander of Huntington Park.

They contend the two ordinances are:

(1) Discriminatory in that they were limited only to the lands of the petitioners; (2) illegal and unconstitutional because they were adopted with no notice and no opportunity to be heard; (3) designed "capriciously" to abort the developers' plans.

It seeks a writ of mandamus to compel issuance of a permit for multiple residential units as set forth in a plan filed with the city May 8, 1962.

The plan was divided into two projects. Enchanted Park Unit 1, in 17 acres on Enchanted Knolls Point, was to have 250 units of apartments plus one acre to include either a restaurant and boatel or some related use. Enchanted Park Unit 2, an area of 83 acres north of the point and including the ridge down to Highway 101, was to include 250 units, of which 130 were single family homes, 60 town houses (individually owned homes built wall-to-wall), and about 60 apartment units.

The court petition claims one ordinance was passed at 1:30 a.m., May 17, rezoning the Enchanted Knolls Hill lots from 10,000 to 15,000 square feet minimum, and the second was passed May 28 at a special meeting called specifically for its passage, rezoning the point from residential to commercial-recreational.

Novato Council Stands Pat On Route Choice

The Novato City Council by 3-to-2 vote last night reaffirmed its stand in favor of the "K" route for a Highway 101 freeway completely by-passing the city.

Councilmen John Angeloni and Howard Schoof voted against the route and in favor of immediate construction of an interchange at the junction of Highways 101 and 37. The State Division of Highways has said adopting the "K" route would delay the interchange project.

Cost of the "K" route, presented by the highway division in response to city council demands for a route completely by-passing Novato, has been estimated by state engineers at $13,140,000.

Mayor M. E. Silva last night declared the engineers "ran the cost up to 13-million-dollars on purpose and took out houses that they did not need to take, just to run the cost up."

Angeloni said there was only one factor in selecting the route or rejecting it: The interchange at highway 37. He pointed to traffic tie-ups and accidents at that intersection.

Schoof said the K route did not serve the community adequately.

Angeloni told Silva he was bargaining with human lives, and selecting the most costly route.

Pozzi reminded the council that district highway engineer R. A. Hayler said the cost estimates might be off "three or four million."

Presidio Soldier Held For May Slaying Of Wife

A web of circumstantial evidence presented to the San Francisco Grand Jury put Army S/Sgt. Ruben Rudolph, 34, in jail, charged yesterday with the May murder of his wife, Lieselotte.

Mrs. Rudolph's body was discovered May 20, dumped beside a deserted road in the Fort Barry military reservation in Marin. She had been beaten and choked to death.

A check of immigration records and fingerprints revealed she was the German wife of Rudolph, stationed at the Presidio of San Francisco. Rudolph was soon arrested, but police released him three days later. He remained restricted to his company area at the Presidio.

The San Francisco Grand Jury heard testimony presented by a string of 16 witnesses and viewed bloody clothes, including a T-shirt owned by Rudolph and a mattress cover found near the body.

San Francisco Police Inspectors Edward Guegle and Ralph McDonald, who worked with federal and Army investigators to build a case against Rudolph, produced these witnesses:

1. A Golden Gate Bridge toll collector who said he remembered early on Saturday, May 17, making change for a man with a missing thumb. Rudolph has a missing thumb, investigators said.

2. A fisherman, who early the same morning was fishing

Deputies Search Ranch For Trace Of Mrs. Long

Yuba County sheriff's officers today searched every room and closet of the ranch home of legless veteran Alvin Long in hopes of finding some clue to the disappearance of Long's estranged wife, Winifred, of Mill Valley.

"If we don't find anything in the house, we'll continue the search in a widening perimeter around his ranch," said Sheriff John R. Dower.

Long was given a lie detector test yesterday in Sacramento at the State Bureau of Criminal Identification and Investigation. Results neither indicted nor cleared him, Dower said.

Although nothing in the test led to an admission, Dower said the test "revealed some areas which will require intensified investigation."

Today's search of the Korean War veteran's year-old $18,000 ranch house was a renewed effort to discover some trace of the 29-year-old woman who has been missing since June 10.

She was to have returned that night to Mill Valley, where shel lived with a friend. Long told deputies he drove her to Marysville bus station. No ticket to Mill Valley was sold there June 10, however.

Senate Finance Committee Approves Debt Limit Hike

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate Finance Committee today approved legislation to temporarily hike the national debt ceiling from $300 billion to a record high of $308 billion.

The committee accepted without change the debt limit increase bill passed last week by the House. Senate passage would send it straight to the White House for President John F. Kennedy's signature.

Chairman Harry F. Byrd (D-Va.), told reporters the committee defeated 8-7 an amendment by Sen. John J. Williams (R-Del.) to put the temporary ceiling at $306 billion.

Also rejected was a proposal by Sen. Clinton P. Anderson, (D-N.M.), to remove the temporary ceiling and fix a permanent $306 billion level. The vote on this was 13-3.

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

COLD WAR MEDAL—The new Armed Forces Expeditionary Service medal for service on Cold War fronts, which was announced by the Defense Department yesterday. The bronze medal will be awarded generally for at least 30 days service in a Cold War crisis since July 1, 1958. No reason was given for that starting date. It will recognize service in such places as South Viet Nam, Berlin, Laos, Lebanon and The Congo, Quemoy and Matsu and the Formosa Straits. The front of the medal (left) has compass and sword; the rear has a shield and two laurel branches. The State Department estimated tens of thousands of servicemen would be eligible for the new medal. Next Astronaut To Orbit

SAN DIEGO (AP)—Navy Comdr. Walter M. Schirra Jr. has been chosen as the next Mercury astronaut to orbit the earth, the San Diego Union says in a copyright story for today's editions.

The dispatch, from the paper's Washington bureau, said the flight is scheduled for this summer and will be a six-orbit mission.

Selection of the primary and secondary astronauts and the decision to extend the mission followed nearly a month's study by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration of data on the Malcolm Scott Carpenter flight, the Union said.

Schirra, 39, a Navy test pilot, was back-up man for Carpenter's flight last month.

Surgery For York

JAMESTOWN, Tenn. (UPI) — Ailing World War I hero Alvin C. York probably will undergo surgery tomorrow, his doctor said.

Dr. Guy Pinckley said, however, the operation was not connected with internal bleeding which hospitalized the 74-year-old York last month. "His condition definitely is not a turn for the worse," said Pinckley.

Squaw Valley Tax Bill

AUBURN (AP)—Placer County says the tax bill of the Squaw Valley Improvement Co. has gone up by $35,978.

Tax collector Earl Corin said yesterday that's the amount of the 1962-63 assessment for the corporation headed by William I. Newsom. The taxes are due by Aug. 1.

The county has already filed suit to recover $62,612 in back taxes for the 1961-62 fiscal year. Newsom's attorneys say these taxes are too high and unfair.

Disturbed Woman Held

HOUSTON (UPI) — A young pregnant woman was in police custody today still thinking she is the mother of a baby she kidnaped four days ago.

Police Lt. A. E. Peake said the "emotionally disturbed" woman took 31-hour-old Sidney Palm from his hospital nursery bassinet last Friday "because she thought he was hers."

"She still thinks the baby is hers," Peake said.

No charges were filed against the woman. She was arrested when her husband notified a doctor that she had a baby that did not belong to her. The doctor, Gorman L. Riley, called police.

The FBI joined the case, and the Lockwood Hospital, where the child was born, offered a $1,000 reward when it became apparent the infant was kidnaped.

The baby was not harmed.

Mason Rift Denied

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Actress Pamela Mason said yesterday she and her husband James Mason would discuss divorce rumors involving the couple when he returns from England.

When he comes home this weekend we'll have to discuss the newspaper reports I have read which have certainly brought the subject to my attention in what I must say is an extraordinarily whimsical manner," the actress said in a telegram to United Press International.

"I want you to know," she added, "that while James and I differ decisively in some of our opinions we have never even talked of divorce."

Cuba Ransom Grows

NEW YORK (UPI) — Fifty prominent Americans have become sponsors of a drive to raise funds to free 1,178 Cubans captured in the abortive Bay of Pigs invasion of Cuba.

The Cuban families' war prisoner's liberation committee announced yesterday that so far $26 million in pledges of agricultural products and approximately $500,000 in cash has been raised to meet the $62 million ransom.

Italy Money Change

ROME (UPI)—Italy will stop issuing its huge five by 10 inch 10,000 lire banknotes and bring out a normal-sized bill, the Bank of Italy announced.

The salmon-colored 10,000 lire notes, now worth about $16, have been found too difficult to stuff into purses.

The new notes will be about the size of dollar bills.

Hebrew Poet Dies

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — Ephraim E. Lisitzky, 77, Hebrew poet, educator and translator of Shakespeare into Hebrew, died Monday after a long illness.

Lisitzky was superintendent and superintendent-emeritus of the Orleans Communal Hebrew School for more than 37 years.

He also had headed Hebrew schools in Milwaukee and Buffalo, N.Y. He was born in Russia and came to the United States more than 60 years ago.

Korea To Honor HST

SEOUL, South Korea (AP) — The South Korean government will confer its highest decoration on former President Harry S. Truman in recognition of his decision to send American troops to help turn back the Communist invaders in the Korean War.

The Foreign Ministry said today the Order of National Foundation will be presented to Truman in Washington by Ambassador Chung Il-kwon on behalf of the chairman of the ruling junta, Gen. Chung hee Park.

Paper Circulation

CHICAGO (UPI) — Circulation of newspapers in the United States and Canada has climbed to a record high, according to a study just released by the audit bureau of circulations.

The record, 114,644,118 combined aggregate total, was reached in the six-month period ending March 31.

The record was achieved despite losses due to large-circulation newspapers in five states going out of publication since a comparable study was made in 1961, the study said.

Sagan Has Baby

Hospital sources said the infant weighed just over five pounds and will be named Denis.

Miss Sagan, 27, the author of the one-time best-seller Bonjour Tristesse, is the wife of American artist Robert Westhoff. He became her second husband on Jan. 8.

Nurses at the hospital said Miss Sagan and her son both were doing "fine."

Russian Food Lag

MOSCOW (UPI) — Meat and milk production in central Russia have cointinued to lag despite a new farm program and sharp price increases, a top Soviet official said yesterday.

Gennady Voronov, a member of the Presidium of the Communist Party Central Committee, made the statement in a report to a group of agricultural officials.

He said some areas in the Russian federation were "greatly behind" production schedules and blamed a shortage of animal feed for their plight.

Berlin Troop Change

BERLIN (UPI)—The U.S. Army sent two final convoys through the Iron Curtain today to complete a change of battle groups in West Berlin.

The movement of 3,000 troops in five days was considered a new demonstration of the Army's right to use the superhighway between West Germany and West Berlin.

The transfer replaced the 2nd Battle Group of the 47th Infantry, which has been stationed in Berlin since March, with the 1st Battle Group of the 8th Infantry.

Patrol Squadron Welcomed Home

ALAMEDA (AP) — A welcome home ceremony Tuesday greeted the 300 members of Patrol Squadron 872, returning from four months of duty with the Pacific Nuclear Task Force.

The 11 Neptune planes have flown about 750,000 miles in the Christmas and Johnston island area in support of the nuclear tests.

How Are JFK's Bills Doing?

(EDITOR'S NOTE: As Congress rounds out the sixth month of its current session, what are the prospects for action on some of President John F. Kennedy's major legislative proposals? Jack Bell, chief of the AP's Senate staff, surveys the outlook for several key administration bills.)

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress' archaic machinery is beginning to move creakingly toward some decisions on the president's major legislative proposals.

Despite an unresolved Senate-House spat over prestige that has blocked passage of money bills, administration prospects for early action on important measures seem improved.

A sugar quota bill, drastically revised from the measure the House previously passed, got the blessing and support in the Senate of Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois.

Final agreement between the two houses is needed on this measure before the fiscal year expires at midnight Saturday.

In this same deadline category is the administration's House-passed measure to raise the debt limit to 308 billion dollars. Leaders hope to bang it through the Senate tomorrow or Friday.

The House faces up to decisions on Kennedy's international trade expansion bill, cleared yesterday by an 8-7 vote on the Rules Committee for procedures which would bar amendments from the floor.

Although there were no showdown votes, the House Agriculture Committee seemed to be making some headway in salvaging part of the Kennedy farm program in a new measure to replace the strict-controls bill passed by the Senate and rejected by the House.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota, the assistant Senate Democratic leader, predicted final compromises between the two houses will produce a wheat control provision and an extension of the present food grains program.

There were some signs of movement, too, on the long-deadlocked bill for federal aid to higher education. Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Ore.) discussed the matter with Kennedy at a White House meeting yesterday.

In this case, the House wants loans and grants and the Senate wants only loans to colleges. Kennedy has favored the latter approach.

Democratic leaders reiterated their announcement that a modified version of Kennedy's program for financing medical care for the elderly through Social Security taxes will be offered in the Senate late in the week.

Dirksen served notice, however, that there will be rounded discussion before any votes are reached.

Democratic sponsors are shooting for a showdown vote before July 15. Their plan is to attach the proposal to a House-passed welfare bill and try in that way to gain a vote on the modified proposal in both houses.

Not all of the developments were encouraging to the administration.

Sen. Clair Engle (D-Calif.) said in a statement that the House-passed Kennedy tax revision bill may have to be taken off the congressional firing line temporarily to get other important legislation passed.

Debate Over Nixon, Brown Debate May Be Quite Lively

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Gov. Edmund G. Brown and Richard M. Nixon are in the midst of a minor debate over conditions of the great debate that they have scheduled for next October.

Brown opened the minor debate yesterday after naming Warren M. Christopher, a Los Angeles attorney, to negotiate terms with Nixon for the great debate.

"I am hopeful that Mr. Nixon's intemperate response to my invitation to debate, and his premature attempt to set terms and conditions, are not indicative of his approach to negotiations," Brown said.

"We," continued Brown, "will not try to dictate the terms, nor will we permit Mr. Nixon to dictate them. If he tries to do so, the debate on the debate could be livelier than the debate itself."

When Nixon accepted Brown's invitation to the statewide television meeting, he said that he was delighted.

However, he chided Brown for having waited so long to make up his mind about the debate and said that the meeting should be a "direct confrontation in which both of the participants will speak without reading from prepared texts and without notes."

Christopher, who has served on the governor's staff and is now vice president of the Coordinating Council for Higher Education, was chief of U.S. government negotiating for international textile agreements in Geneva and Tokyo last year.

Rickover Says Navy All Wet On A-Power

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Vice Adm. Hyman G. Rickover thinks the Navy is all wet in its opposition to building more nuclear-powered ships because of their high cost, Congressional testimony showed today.

The outspoken father of the atomic submarine told a House appropriations subcommittee recently why he feels that way.

"The Navy claims that nuclear surface ships are too expensive," Rickover said. "For this reason, they are not interested in building additional ones. The cost of a nuclear ship over a 20-year life, taking building and operating costs into account, comes out to be about one and a half times as much as for a conventional ship. . . .

"While an increase of 50 per cent is considered a reason for not going to such naval ships, I have not heard any naval aviators advocating that we should not use naval aircraft even though their cost has gone up about 2,500 per cent.

"Actually, almost everything has gone up in cost. Even the cost of having babies has gone up. I believe it is now about 1.7 times what it was in 1950. On that basis, we should stop having babies, but I see no visible evidence of this."

Rickover, who is manager of naval reactor development for the Atlantic Energy Commission, also had some barbed comments on the type of graduates the service academies are turning out these days.

"If you want to compare their scholastic achievements with those of European students," he said, "I can give some basis for such a comparison.

"I don't believe that the average graduate of our service academies has been much better equipped intellectually than the graduates of the higher secondary schools of continental Europe.

"If you look at the examination questions that must be passed by the 18 to 19-year-old boys and girls on completing the course at the better secondary schools in Europe you will see that many of the graduates of our service academies would have a hard time passing them."

Mill Valley Woman Found Dead In Bath

Mill Valley real estate woman Eleanor Sanborn, 50, was found dead in her bathtub about 9:30 a.m. today.

Sheriff's investigators, who went to the home at 11 Reed Street off Miller Avenue, said there were no exterior marks to indicate violence. Mrs. Sanborn was living alone at the home.

A fellow employee of Walburn Realty, John Brorsen, discovered the body and called Mill Valley Police Chief Dan Terzich. The chief notified the coroner and the sheriff's office.

Mrs. Sanborn was formerly with Forsyth Realty before joining Walburn about four years ago. She worked until 5 p.m. yesterday, then failed to show up for work this morning.

She leaves a son, Air Force Capt. Morgan Sanborn of Los Angeles, and a daughter, who was only recently married and is believed to be in Puerto Rico. Captain Sanborn was scheduled to arrive in Mill Valley to make funeral arrangements at Russell and Gooch Mortuary.

An autopsy was to be performed this afternoon. Death could have been due to a heart attack, according to one officer.

to be sought by Construction Teamsters locals and the Cement Masons Union, both of whose contracts expired with the Laborers on May 1. Neither, however, had put out pickets during the dispute.

Federal and state mediators had assisted in the prolonged negotiations which ended with the signing at 11 p.m. yesterday at a conference table in Del Webb's Town House in San Francisco, where negotations had been in session since noon.

Throughout Northern California, the dispute put some 78,000 construction workers out of jobs and caused work stoppages or slowups for 20,000 to 30,000 in related industries, according to a United Press International estimate.

In Marin, its effect was minor because most construction workers continued to be employed on home building jobs, little touched by the Laborers Union walkout.

But the jobs shut down in Marin were major ones: the $3,750,000 Marin County Civic Center building; two new wings of Marin General Hospital; additions to Terra Linda High School and several other school jobs; a library building at Dominican College; new Safeway Stores in San Rafael and Novato; a housing tract in Loma Verde.

in the Fort Barry area. He saw a car with dim headlights parked near where the body was found, he said. A check revealed that a car owned by Mrs. Alice Lothrop, a friend of Rudolph's who inspectors said gave him use of the car, had a bad battery. Its headlights could have been dim as a result, inspectors said.

3. A former tenant of Rudolph's apartment said she had, while living there, sprinkled flea powder on the mattress. The crime laboratory reported that the blood-spattered mattress cover found near the body had flea powder on it.

Rudolph has told police his wife arrived in San Francisco May 15 from Germany. He said he last saw her May 16 when he drove her to San Francisco Airport for a return trip.

Inspectors said Rudolph, who will be arraigned in superior court tomorrow, has refused to comment on the murder charge. He has hired attorney George T. Davis of San Francisco to represent him, they said.

Estes Prober Assails Farm Allotment Laxity

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A Senate investigator bitterly criticized the agriculture department's handling of the Billie Sol Estes case today and suggested that a "major reorganization" of the department might be in order.

The development came as the McClellan investigations subcommittee opened its long-awaited public inquiry into the tangled affairs of the now-bankrupt Texas financier. Today's session concentrated on Billie Sol's cotton allotments and the way they were handled by the agriculture department.

Paul E. Kamerick, the subcommittee's assistant counsel, said it was "inconceivable" that government inefficiency alone enabled Estes to amass thousands of acres of improper cotton allotments.

In Pecos, Tex., meanwhile, Dist. Judge J. H. Starley today granted Estes a postponement of his trial on felony theft charges and indicated that he may move the trial to San Antonio.

STATE

would also support a separate bond issue for the other services.

Sen. Hugo Fisher (D-San Diego), sponsor of the bill objected, "I am not prepared to say that a seat for someone in the university or a state college is any higher priority than a bed for a mentally retarded child."

On a strictly party-line vote the amendment was defeated 25 to 9.

Then McCarthy proposed an amendment spelling out exactly what the funds in the bond issue should be used for. This was opposed by Fisher on the grounds it would "tie the hands" of the administrators. He said each area had been assigned specific sums. Again the 25 to 9 party vote defeated the amendment.

McCarthy and Sen. John A. Murdy of Orange County opposed the bill on final passage. "The capital outlay total is too much and where it will be spent should have been clearly spelled out," McCarthy said in explaining his vote. "This is the same issue the people defeated before and I predict they'll defeat it again."

There is still a bare possibility the Assembly may split the issues. Democrats hold a bare 41 to 34 majority there. Forty one votes are needed to pass a measure.

Republicans Bruce Sumner of Newport Beach and Don Mulford of Berkeley introduced bills in the lower house which split the "package" into three bond issues, one for colleges and the university, one for junior colleges and the third for other state facilities.

Democratic leaders in the Assembly said the Ways and Means Committee would consider these and the Fisher bill today and probably have the latter ready for action by the Assembly on Thursday. However, most legislators agreed the special would not wind up until Friday.

UN Called Force For Better World

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The public view of the United Nations as a political debating society overlooks the great force it has become for economic and social change, Roberto Huertematte of the United Nations staff declared last night.

"Perhaps its greatest potential lies in this direction," Huertematte told a 17th anniversary commemoration of the signing of the U.N. charter here in 1945.

The expanding united nations role in economic and social development results because "it is the primary concern of the new nations to find ways to improve their sub marginal standards of living," he said.

De Gaulle Delays Tour Of French Provinces

Nuisance Suit Aims To Raze Shack In Tam

Two Tamalpais Valley property owners who sought to comply with county orders, but found themselves helpless, were given help yesterday by county supervisors.

The trouble centered around a shack condemned as a nuisance by both county health and building departments, located at 325 Marin Avenue and owned by Mr. and Mrs. Bruce B. Jones of 303 Live Oak Drive, Mill Valley.

Supervisor Peter Behr reported that orders had been given to have the building razed because of its unsightly appearance and unhealthful conditions, and that Mr. and Mrs. Jones are eager to comply.

But George M. Disteel, who rented the property until last month, refuses to remove some "junk" he has stored in it and has threatened to sue the owners for damages if his property is touched, Behr continued.

"Thus the owners are trapped in a most peculiar situation," said Behr.

He moved, and the board approved, that the district attorney be directed to file to abate the nuisance.

Expects Child In Fall

Victim Of Fall Said In Good Condition

A Daly City plumber was reported in fair condition at Marin General Hospital today after suffering injuries from a fall Friday from building 3 of the Cote d'Azur Apartments in Sausalito.

OBITUARIES

Mrs. Lydia Elsie Askim Dies At 65

Mrs. Lydia Elsie Askim, a former Novato resident, died yesterday after long illness at her Petaluma home. She was 65.

Mrs. Askim was the wife of Almer Askim. She was born in Iowa, and following her marriage in 1914, lived in Minnesota until she and her husband moved to Novato in 1943. From Novato, they moved to Clear Lake, and thence to Petaluma in 1959.

Besides her husband, she is survived by three daughters and six sons: Mrs. Donnabel Pedroli of San Rafael; Mrs. Myrtle Bergala and Charles, Bruce and Dale Askim of Novato; Mrs. Joyce Ranger and Alan Askim of Minnesota; Caryl Askim of Petaluma, and Curtis Askim of Santa Rosa. She also leaves a brother, George Meyer of Minnesota, and 30 grandchildren.

GUSTAVE HOHMAN

Gustave E. Hohman, a former resident of San Anselmo, died in a Santa Rosa hospital yesterday after a long illness.

Hohman, 79, was a native of Germany who immigrated at an early age to the United States. He had been in the contracting business in San Francisco before his retirements.

He lived in San Anselmo 10 years until he moved to Santa Rosa in 1960.

He leaves a daughter, Mrs. Elaine Cirelli of San Anselmo; a son, Charles J. Hohman of San Francisco; four brothers, Henry, Albert, William and Charles Hohman, and three sisters, Anne Hohman, Mrs. Henrietta Radford and Mrs. Louise Batz. He leaves also three grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held at 1 p.m. tomorrow at N. Gray and Co. funeral home, Divisadero at Post Street, San Francisco. Interment will be private at Cypress Lawn Memorial Park, Colma.

DEATHS

HOHMAN—In Santa Rosa, June 26, 1962, Gustave E. Hohman, beloved husband of the late Helen E. Hohman, devoted father of Elaine Cirelli of San Anselmo and Charles J. 63 REFUGEES FROM CHINA IN FORMOSA

TAIPEI (UPI) — Sixty-three refugees from Communist China arrived in Formosa to begin a new life today.

They are among the thousands who fled to Hong Kong from Communist China during the last three months.

More than 1,500 Formosa Chinese welcomed them when they disembarked at Keelung in Northern Formosa, including relief agency officials, students, and representatives of civic organizations.

They were the first arrivals since the Taipei government announced on May 23 its decision to admit all refugees who ask to come to Formosa.

Ku Cheng-Kang, chairman of the Free China Relief Assn., said in a welcome speech at the wharf that many more refugees will be coming.

Judge Brusatori Back On Marin Court Bench

Judge N. Charles Brusatori of Marin Superior Court is back on the bench this week after an illness of four weeks.

He entered the hospital on May 26 with a stomach disorder.

U.S. Moves In Red Buildup

WASHINGTON (AP)—Officials said today current U.S. diplomatic and military moves in the Far East are designed to forestall any possible outbreak of fighting between Red China and Nationalist China.

President John F. Kennedy is expected to discuss the Formosa situation and the buildup of Chinese Communist forces opposite the Nationalist held area at a news conference late today.

One question he may clarify is U.S. policy with respect to the defense of the Nationalist-held islands of Quemoy and Matsu which lie close to the Communist mainland. The policy laid down under the Eisenhower administration was that the United States would actively support the Nationalist defense of those islands only if a Red attack on them was considered to be the first step in an an attack on Formosa.

The United States has sent units of the 7th Flee into Formosan waters, possibly with the dual purpose of defending Nationalist stronghold against any assault and at the same time discouraging the Nationalist forces from moving against the Red Chinese.

George W. Anderson Jr., chief of naval operations, said last night he foresees "no real trouble" in the Formosa Strait. He told newsmen in Las Vegas, Nev., that he doubts Red China will launch any serious attack on the offshore islands.

The United States is reported to have told Red China through its ambassador at Warsaw that this country would not support any invasion attempt by Nationalist President Chiang Kai-Shek.

At the same time American Ambassador John Moors Cabot is said to have warned Red Chinese Ambassador Wang Ping Nan against any Communist strike at the Chinese Nationalists.

The Peiping regime began moving heavy troop reinforcements into the coastal region of Fukien Province opposite Formosa about two weeks ago.

Quemoy Defenders Act Calmly

QUEMOY (AP) — Nationalist Chinese defenders on this bit of gun-bristling rock are taking the massive Communist buildup on the China mainland only five miles away a lot more calmly than most of the rest of the world.

In the last two weeks, a top Nationalist commander reports, the Reds have boosted their military might to about 400,000 infantry and more than 300 jet fighters in the mainland crescent that rings three sides of the Quemoy complex.

That is 50 per cent above the pre-June 1 estimates of Communista strength in the area.

The Nationalists have an estimated 70,000 soldiers on this 50 square miles of island. The only planes here are a few tiny single-engine artillery spotters. Jet defense for the Quemoy complex would have to come from Formosa airbases 150 to 200 miles away or—possibly—from U.S. Navy carriers operating in the shallow Formosa Strait.

Despite the disparity of Communist and Nationalist strength, there is little apparent worry on this island.

Quemoy knows it can withstand any artillery bombardment the Reds can hurl at it. Its defenders express confidence that they can throw back any invasion the Reds might attempt with what landing craft the Communists are known to have.

Headquarters and command posts are buried in granite tunnels many feet below the surface. Hundreds of underground dumps are piled high with food, weapons and ammunition.

Scores of tanks can rumble out of huge underground caverns in minutes. Machine guns and high velocity antitank guns can sweep virtually every yard of beach. Large areas of the sandy beaches are mined.

Miles of tunnels carved out of solid rock provide living areas for many of the Nationalist soldiers. There are hundreds of underground shelters for the island's 45,000 civilians. Already whole villages live underground as a matter of course.

The California redwood was discovered in 1769 by a Spanish expedition to Northern California under Don Gaspar de Portola. The famous tree was called "palo colorado," or redwood tree, in Portola's diaries.

SUPERVISORS:

Board Confirms Deputy Counsel

Richard V. Godino of 449 Tennessee Valley Road, Tennessee Valley, was confirmed by Marin County supervisors yesterday to be deputy county counsel replacing Robert E. Smallman, resigned.

Recommendation of County Counsel E. Warren McGuire that Godino be paid at the second rather than the first step in his salary range "upon the basis of his previous legal experience" was accepted. Godino's salary will be $555 monthly, effective July 9.

Godino, 32, has been a member of the legal staff of the state Public Utilities Commission. Married and with one child, he took a B.A. from Stanford University, a master's degree from Stanford's School of Business, and a bachelor of law degree from University of San Francisco.

Nine other appointments in five departments were confirmed as follows:

Planning Department—Tama J. Swallow, senior typist, $350.

Communications — Anne M. Porter and Olive J. Wadick, telephone operator-receptionists, $320 (effective 30 days before opening of civic center).

Fire Department — Jack J. Wilson, fire warden, $401.

The supervisors also:

1. Set Aug. 13 at 9 a.m. to adopt the final 1962-63 county budget. Copies of the preliminary budget will be available at the offices of county clerk and auditor.

2. Confirmed reelection of Charles G. Hadley to a four-year term on the board of the Bolinas Beach Public Utility District, and election of Ernest Dix to a four-year term replacing Frank A. Fuller. Hadley has been elected president and Robert Baird vice-president.

3. Accepted resignation of Bernard C. Ross as county representatives at large on the board of the Marin County Mosquito Abatement District.

4. Authorized two five-mile-an-hour navigational signs at the new Black Point ramp.

5. Reopened salary considerations briefly by request of County Clerk George H. Gnoss to promote the assistant county clerk (Mrs. Agnes Nathanson, daughter of the late Clerk George Jones) one range, alter the title of the supervisors' assistant clerk, Mrs. Muriel Carlson, from senior stenographer to principal clerk, and give up a step increase to the calendar clerk.

6. Rejected all bids for painting the Greenbrae Corporation Yard building since none came within estimate.

7. Authorized the public works department to paint center stripes in Corte Madera streets, cost being reimbursable.

8. Told the public works director to confer with the state park director preparatory to restoring, with state approval, a roadside spring and trough in Samuel Taylor Park.

9. Set Lucas Valley Master Plan for hearing 2 p.m. July 17.

10. Despite a planning commission reaffirmation of approval for single-family residence adjustment of William C. King at Mountain View Avenue and Hamilton Lane, Muir Woods Park, reversed the planners because Supervisor Peter Behr felt the projected house would be too big for the lot.

11. Approved expansion of the Rafael Convalescent Home at 234 North San Pedro Road, Santa Venetia.

Hub Library Unit Member Gets Honor

Fred Hines, 77, who is retiring after 13 years on the San Anselmo Library board, received a certificate of commendation last night from Mayor John M. Reichmuth in a brief ceremony in the city hall.

Valerie Ansel, chairman of the library board, described Hines as a "valued and valuable member" of the board. She said the board regrets losing him, and "we shall miss his rare wit."

Miss Ansel, who has been on the board for more than 30 years and has been its chairman for 10 years, was re-appointed for another four years.

Hines was appointed to the library board in June of 1949 to replace the late Walter Hoots. Hines was foreman of the Marin County Grand Jury in 1950-51 and a member of the 1957-58 grand jury. He and his wife, married for 52 years, live at 16 Yolanda Drive.

Hines's son, Fred G., is a teacher at San Rafael High School, and another son, Eugene, is a counselor at Del Mar High School in Campbell.

His retirement creates a vacancy on the library board. Members last night recommended Louis Yates of 25 Fernwood Drive, but the city council postponed the appointment until its next meeting.

Would-Be Bridge Leaper Restrained

An apparent would-be suicide from the Golden Gate Bridge was restrained late yesterday, and today was under psychiatric observation.

Vincent Di Bianca, 52-year-old Berkeley violinist, halted his car a short distance north of the toll plaza about 7 p.m. and was climbing the bridge railing when grabbed by Willard E. Baseman of 29 Ebbtide Passage, Corte Madera, and Capt. George Tobin of the California Highway Patrol who was off duty.

ROOF SPRINGS LEAK AT NEW FIREHOUSE

San Anselmo's new firehouse on Butterfield Road has a leaky roof that has damaged the dormitory section, and the responsibility for repair lies with the general contractor, the city council declared last night.

City councilmen asked Administrator Douglas J. Flautt to so inform the general contractor, Joseph R. Filippo.

City Atty. John G. Buresh said he is not too sure that the city can produce "a preponderance of evidence" to pin down the responsibility for the leaky roof.

However, Administrator Flautt read a portion of the contract, which provides that the contractor must maintain the roof leakproof for at least two years.

Councilmen William Franchini, Woodrow V. Capurro, and Robert E. Rouse declared flatly they hold the general contractor responsible because the written contract specifically says so.

On motion by Rouse, the councilmen directed Flautt to have the roof repaired within 30 days.

WATER TOWER VIGIL—A guard at Western State Penitentiary at Pittsburgh, Pa., watches the prison water tower where several convicts maintain a vigil today after climbing up to join a fellow prisoner protesting conditions in solitary confinement. Prison officials said a total of 13 convicts were on the tower's catwalk by evening lockup. (AP Wirephoto)

Inmates Perch On Tower In Protest At Prison

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Thirteen inmates are perched on a water tower at Western State Penitentiary today in a protest over conditions at the institution.

It was anyone's guess how long they would stay there. Prison officials decided to wait them out. They are on a catwalk about 100 feet above the ground.

Six prisoners scrambled up the tower shortly after dinner last night to join a convict who had been on the tower since Monday. They had stuffed their pockets with food.

Then, with buckshot flying, six more prisoners dashed across the prison yard and up the tower a short time later.

The whole thing started Monday afternoon when inmate Robert Payne, 29, formerly of Washington, D.C., climbed the tower, protesting the treatment of prisoners in solitary confinement.

He said he wouldn't come down until he was assured a chance to speak with a state official.

On the tower the 13 prisoners displayed some bedsheets sewed together with this message written on it: "We are protesting brutality. Our presence is to support Payne's allegations and dispute the claim of the warden."

Warden James Maroney said that three guards fired two shotgun volleys into the air when the second group of six dashed for the tower. He said the shots were intended only as a warning.

For a time, prison officials spent anxious moments, fearful that a riot might develop among some 750 prisoners in a recreational area.

"Amazing as it may seem," Maroney said, "they were all very quiet."

The warden said no plans were made immediately to dislodge the prisoners from their perch.

Payne, serving a term for a parole violation, was described by Maroney as a constant trouble-maker. When his current term expires in November 1969 he faces at least three more prison sentences totaling 10 to 24 years for armed robbery and jail-breaking.

Apartment Project In Sausalito Lags

Sausalito Properties, Inc., planning a multi-million dollar development on Richardson Bay, was told to wait again last night by the Sausalito City Council.

The council, over objections of Councilman Howard Sievers, agreed to continue the matter to next Tuesday. At that time it will determine whether to ask planning consultant William E. Spangle Jr. to study the plan further.

The council gave itself a deadline of Oct. 16 to give the developers a decision on whether it approves of the project.

The development is proposed to contain apartments, hotels and restaurants, and be built on two filled peninsulas between Bee and Turney Streets, from Humboldt to Railroad Avenue.

E. Elmore Hutchison, president of Sausalito Properties, Inc., said: "First we talk with various commissions. Now you have all the answers. Now we must get another professional planner's opinion. When is it going to stop? Is Spangle the last one?"

He said that since he first brought in his request, the land has been reappraised. "As time goes on," he said, "this is money."

"They are in here for approval of an idea, not a use permit . . . why should it take so long to say yes or no on the idea?" demanded Sievers.

Other councilmen, however, preferred to wait for a study by Spangle.

The proposal has been approved, with certain recommended changes, by the planning commission.

Discussion was spiced by remarks from Mrs. Marsha Owen (Sally Stanford) who was asked to sit down after a loud bang from Mayor Paul Micou's gavel. At one point, Councilman Philip S. Ehrlich Jr. suggested Micou call Police Sgt. Stanley Kelly to maintain order.

"I'll take care of that, Phil," Micou told Ehrlich. Kelly was not called.

Army Colonel Gets Medal At Retirement

Lt. Col. Herman G. Kleikamp of Mill Valley has been awarded the Army Commendation Medal for meritorious services as staff judge advocate at Fort Baker.

Sausalito Zoning Law Eyed

Main question discussed was: What does one do about rebuilding a structure which burns down when it is in a nonconforming zone? The council asked the planning commission to give a report on this and continued the public hearing to July 17 after one hour and 45 minutes of discussion.

Councilmen decided at the outset of the meeting to ask City Manager Charles A. Brown to devise some sort of mailing to inform all property owners of the zoning hearings, stressing their importance.

A swift business of selling zoning maps and the planning commission's report on the proposed new ordinance was done, too, before discussion got under way. At 15 cents per map, or 25 cents for both map and report, more than $3 worth were sold.

Mayor Paul Micou said the present zoning ordinance is inadequate and that the city has worked several years toward a new one which is to rezone parts of the city only. He said the primary purpose, according to the planning commission, is density control.

Councilman Michael Harris said it is extremely rare that a duplex burns down in a single-family zone. He suggested the council get advice on the subject from a professional planner.

Mrs. Marsha Owen (Sally Stanford), said her restaurant, the Valhalla Inn, is in a nonconforming position, and if it were destroyed by fire, she would not be permitted to rebuild. "I'm certainly opposed to anything like this," she said.

Marian Frick called it discriminatory to refuse rebuilding of what formerly was on the property.

Ernest Friberg told the council that it should consider that the same problem would arise in case the owner had considerable remodeling or repairs.

Other problems on the ordinance and map suggested by Councilman Philip S. Ehrlich Jr. concerned increasing parking standards, whether it is desirable to allow a residence in a commercial area, and a suggestion that the two dissenters on the planning commission report, Robert L. Nissen and former commissioner F. Bruce Bernhard, explain why they opposed it.

Letters opposing a change in zoning from duplex to single family were read from Elmer E. Johnson and Cora and Jean Severin. A letter from Pearl L. Arnold opposed rezoning her property at 501 Bridgeway to garden apartments.

Micou concluded discussion, saying, "This is not a problem that has an easy solution."

The council agreed, on motion of Ehrlich, to disapprove any expansion of the Sausalito lateral and any action by the Golden Gate Bridge District to increase bridge traffic into Sausalito.

The council also:

1. Approved payment of $1,000 to planning consultant William E. Spangle Jr., in connection with his Marinship planning.
2. Referred to the planning commission a letter from Sausalito-Marin City Sanitary District directors saying facilities are inadequate to serve the 33-unit high rise building in Buena Vista Heights subdivision.
3. Councilman Harris asked City Atty Leland H. Jordan to pursue his efforts to raise parking fine violations from $1 to $2.
4. Announced that the next finance committee meeting will be July 12.
5. Heard a letter from the Sausalito Rotary Club asking that the city's 1962-63 budget include monies to keep streets and paths clean.

TWO-WAY TRAFFIC PROPOSAL DENIED

Novato's Center Road between Tamalpais and Diablo Avenues will remain a one-way street, the Novato city council decided last night by 3-to-2 vote.

Mayor M. E. Silva and councilman Everett Pozzi dissented.

The council, responding to a request by residents, had asked its safety committee to report on the feasibility of allowing two-way traffic on the street during the summer. The safety committee, composed of City Administrator J. Julien Baget, Public Works Director Charles Joseph and Chief of Police Roy McLeran, advised against changing the flow of traffic.

Mayor Silva said he wanted to consider the people along the street because they have been cooperative in getting the Center Road improvement project going. Pozzi agreed.

The council awarded a contract for two four-door sedans for the police department to L. J. Dervin Ford Co. at a net cost of $2,548.64. Total cost of the cars including tax was $4,748.64, less $2,200 trade-in for two 1961 cars.

Anderson Chevrolet Co. submitted the only other bid, of total cost of $4,519.61 less $850 trade-in, for two cars, with a net cost of $3,668.61.

The council voted to have City Atty. Clark M. Palmer Jr. prepare an ordinance for abandonment of Cherry Street between Olive and Atherton Avenues.

It also set for hearing at its next regular meeting an appeal by Domenica Development Co. of planning commission turndown of plans for the Cerro Vista subdivision. The planning commission held the subdivision did not have sufficient drainage on the portion of Cherry Street. With the abandonment of Cherry Street, the council voted for a reconsideration of the subdivision allowing for drainage on Olive and Railroad avenues.

The Novato City Council also:

1. Approved signs for the Novato Fair Shopping Center, and the Safeway and W. T. Grant Co. stores, the first within the shopping center.
2. Authorized the mayor and city clerk to sign final papers for purchase of Presbyterian Church property, to be used for city offices, for $62,500 and lease back to the church of the property until Feb. 1, 1963. The money is to come from unappropriated reserves.
3. Approved a swimming pool for St. Francis Heights subdivision as requested by John Novak.
4. Voted final passage of a subdivision ordinance for parcels of four or fewer lots, and a business license ordinance granting contractors a quarterly license.
5. Accepted the May cash report in which the city has $471,649 in cash divided into $245,210 in the general fund, $135,627 in the restricted funds and $90,811 in assessment district funds.
6. Adjourned to a special budget hearing at 8 p.m. next Tuesday.

San Anselmo To Light Up Its City Hall

San Anselmo's City Hall and its front lawn will get some decorative lighting after all.

City councilmen, who had nixed the city hall lighting project during budget discussions, decided last night that they had a source of income that would fit in just right for city hall lighting.

Administrator Douglas J. Flautt reported that a large department store on the Peninsula will buy 20 of the city's old light standards on San Anselmo Avenue, which are to be replaced. The store will pay $15 apiece for the old standards—a total of $300.

On a motion by Councilman Robert E. Rouse, city fathers set aside the $300 to light up the city hall.

The old light standards will come down about mid-September, to be replaced by modern light poles that curve out over the street.

The San Anselmo City Council also:

1. Set for Monday at 8 p.m. interviews of applicants for the job of city engineer and public works director to succeed William Roe, who resigned. The city administrator said he has six applications, two of them from residents of San Anselmo.
2. Approved the use of street banners to advertise the Old Fashioned San Anselmo Days beginning this week and continuing through the Fourth of July holidays. The Chamber of Commerce asked for the banners.
3. Approved bigger lights at Bolinas and Waverly Avenues. Ross has agreed to improve the lights at Bolinas and Shady Lane.
4. Denied new street lights at 182 Oak Avenue and at 31 Woodside Drive.
5. Approved Harold M. Harris's request that he be permitted to replace a sycamore tree in front of his home at 116 Hillsdale Drive with a flowering tree.
6. Denied a street banner across Sir Francis Drake Boulevard to advertise the San Francisco Theological Seminary's summer theater, which will run from July through September. Councilmen said this might set a precedent for similar requests from other private organizations.

2 Pt. Reyes Subdivisions Gain

Two more subdivision units on the Point Reyes Peninsula in the area of the proposed national seashore received tentative map approval of Marin County supervisors yesterday.

The vote was unanimous, but was taken only after some tension developed between Supervisors Peter Behr, an enthusiastic supporter of the seashore project, and George Ludy, in whose district the peninsula lies.

Previous to the hearing on application of Nova Albion Properties, Inc., concerning two units aggregating 162 acres east of Drakes Estero and nine miles south of Inverness, a letter of protest was read from Kenneth S. Roe of Dillon Beach. The letter said that already seven subdivisions have been "torn into this 'island in time.'"

"This letter shouldn't be considered," said Ludy, "due to its dependence on the point that this might become a national seashore."

The county counsel has ruled that the county cannot be bound by a mere future possibility of federal action creating the national seashore.

Behr and Ludy asked for a reading of conditions and exceptions imposed by the planning conditions and learned that the subdivider must seek rights of way from other property owners for a 5,000-foot access road from Sir Francis Drake Boulevard. The subdivider has agreed to build the access road to country standards.

Behr said he objected to board approval before rather than after all arrangements had been made.

"Do the people concerned object?" asked Ludy, and gazing hard at Behr he added, "I know we have objectors on the board."

"If this is in line with subdivisions in other areas and there is no legal objection, I'd admit I have no choice but to vote for it," Behr conceded.

So on Ludy's motion the board voted unanimously for approval.

McInnis Tells Terra Linda Unit Watch And Wait On Road

San Rafael Mayor John F. McInnis told Terra Linda Community Services District directors last night they should adopt a "watch and wait" policy on any developments of proposed roads from Terra Linda to the Ross Valley.

McInnis and the directors agreed that somehow a road will be built to provide West Marin access to the planned Northgate Shopping Center in San Rafael near Terra Linda.

"Let's stop kidding ourselves," McInnis said. "The people building the shopping center want to use Freitas Parkway, but you shouldn't fret about details now."

He said the board would "weaken its position" if too great a clamor is made over traffic controls on any proposed route.

"If we don't scream now," said director Melvin Warenback, "we may never get such improvements as a pedestrian overpass or traffic lights."

But McInnis said the board was trying to anticipate traffic conditions which cannot now be measured. He said the San Rafael City Council "would not spend a dime" unless such improvements were found necessary after exhaustive traffic studies.

The mayor suggested the board should ask San Rafael's traffic committee to study existing problems on the parkway near the proposed center and attempt "to sell the idea" that traffic controls may be needed if the road is extended to some Ross Valley connection.

In answer to questions from CSD directors about possible Terra Linda annexation to San Rafael, McInnis said:

No guarantee can be made now that the Terra Linda Recreation District would survive annexation. "There are differences of opinion in the state. Any answer must come from the attorney general's office."

San Rafael cannot promise to keep the Terra Linda's firehouse. "It may be demonstrated that a firehouse should be relocated as the area changes and develops. It may be possible to agree to retain it for one year after annexation, but not definitely."

Franzblau Resignation Is Accepted By Board

Resignation of Michael J. Franzblau, board president, from the Terra Linda Community Services District board was quietly accepted last night by his fellow directors.

Director Robert H. Brownne was elected to succeed Franzblau as president.

Franzblau submitted his resignation June 12 after a long row over the responsibilities of the CSD board. The other four directors, who had censured him for "arrogance and disregard of the statutory limitations of this board," sought a reconciliation last week.

Brownne reported on the board's visit with Franzblau: Calling itself the "committee of the whole," the board met "in private with Dr. Franzblau and after a full and direct discussion, it was Dr. Franzblau's request that his resignation be accepted," he said.

The directors agreed to consider applicants for the vacancy on the board at their Aug. 14 meeting.

Director John F. Duckett nominated Richard Less for president, but Less refused, saying he has to work 12 hours a day and cannot always get to meetings on time. Less in turn nominated Brownne, who was elected the new president by unanimous vote.

Terra Linda May Be Paying Too Much For Street Lights

Taxpayers in the Terra Linda Community Services District may be paying about $2,000 a year more than necessary for their street lights.

According to a six-year-old state public utilities commission ruling, rates for street lights must not be arbitrarily set according to corporate boundary lines. Since the Terra Linda CSD borders on San Rafael, CSD board directors say they should be eligible for cheaper city rates.

The district has paid Pacific Gas and Electric Co. about $8,400 a year for street lights for the past five years. If city rates were obtained, the district would pay about $6,400.

At the request of the CSD board, County Counsel E. Warren McGuire has asked PG&E to say why they are charging the higher unincorporated area rate.

"If their reasons aren't valid," McGuire said, "we will take the matter to the public utilities commission."

Ray Hackett Will Play At Rose Bowl

Ray Hackett and his 10-piece band from San Francisco will play for Saturday night's dance in the Rose Bowl in Larkspur, Fire Chief George Bartram announced today.

The volunteer firemen's dances at the Rose Bowl, now in their 53rd year, run from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m.

Call For Police Harries Husband

SPRINGERVILLE, Ariz. (AP)—Catherine Fisher was furious when she found eight cows clopping across her recently planted lawn. She notified police and the animals were corralled in a city-owned lot.

That night, her husband, Bob, said a crew of his construction company had knocked down a farm fence and eight cows had escaped.

"And on top of that," he said, "some old lady called the police and I have to pay $5 a head to get those cows out of city custody and back to the owner."

Rezoning Paves Way For New Apartments

The San Anselmo City Council last night approved a rezoning that paves the way for a 24-unit apartment building at Sycamore Avenue and Bridge Street, next to Maggie's Flowers.

City councilmen granted apartment zoning of the property to developers Harold B. Watkin and E. Kent Sibbald, who plan to build a two-story structure with parking underneath.

The city planning commission recommended the rezoning from one-family residential. Robert Leitzell, chairman of the planning commission reported apartment zoning of the property is in line with the master plan.

City fathers postponed decision on the proposed expansion of a medical building at 800 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, across the street from Sunnyhills. Drs. Joseph and Robert Alderson, brothers, want only a small addition to their medical building, attorney Charles W. Pierce told the councilmen. They need a small piece of unused land belonging to Obert and Mary Olson, the attorney explained.

Both the Olsons and their neighbors, Victor and Martha Turkan, are willing to have their lots rezoned to commercial so that the medical building can be expanded. However, the expansion will not interfere with the Olson and Turkan homes in any way, said attorney Pierce.

City planning commissioners have denied the request because the general plan calls for residential on that side of Sir Francis Drake Boulevard.

City councilmen said they want to look at the property before deciding.

Citizens Council Will Object To Shop Center Plan

Objections to height and parking facilities of the proposed Mac Marin, Inc., shopping center on the Sausalito sandspit were raised today by directors of the Sausalito Citizens Council.

Plans for the $450,000 set of shops were made known June 13 by William E. McDonnell, co-owner of the Spinnaker Restaurant. The planning commission said it would study the matter and continued it to its meeting to be held tonight.

The citizens council, according to president Carl Gabrielson, believes the building height should be kept compatible with the Spinnaker. "The multi-storied structures now proposed are completely unsuitable on our waterfront," Gabrielson said.

He added that "parking areas as proposed are ridiculously inadequate."

Final Approval Is Given Elks To Move Lodge To Gallinas Creek

Final approval was given by Marin County supervisors yesterday for a use permit allowing the San Rafael Elks Lodge to move its home to an island in the south fork of Gallinas Creek, Santa Venetia.

Supervisor William D. Fusselman reported concern of nearby residents over the additional traffic expected through extension of Meadow Drive over a bridge to be built to the island. He voiced hope that consultations will be held with the county public works department.

Use of the island will allow the Elks to vacate their present headquarters at Fifth Avenue and B Street, San Rafael, where a commercial building is contemplated.

Critics who had previously voiced concern to the planning commission on various points, including the plan to make the bridge lower than the road with possibility of flooding, failed to appear before the supervisors.

Planning approval was also confirmed on an application by Eichler Homes for a use permit for establishment of a community center with swimming pool and other recreational facilities within the proposed Eichler Planned Community in Lucas Valley past the county juvenile hall, off Lucas Valley Road.

'Real Progress' Seen In Houseboat Efforts

"Real progress" was discerned yesterday by County Supervisor Peter Behr in efforts to solve the long-standing problem of sewage disposal by houseboat and ark dwellers in the Sausalito vicinity of Richardson Bay.

The county supervisors received a letter from the Sausalito-Marin Sanitary District saying it had accepted in principle a request from the Marin Boat Dwellers Assn. that the district amend its regulations to take in "non-transient vessels," assuming jurisdiction and providing sewer connections "when feasible."

Behr indicated that this seemed likely to solve the sanitary problem provided by the stationary vessels, and thus appease the Bay Area Water Pollution Control board. He reported concern, however, on the part of sanitation and public works officials about use of a sewer line to the Arques Shipyard which has not been in operation.

The board finally decided to send a letter to the sanitary district expressing pleasure with progress to date.

Sardi's Rehangs Roth Caricature

NEW YORK (AP)—Lillian Roth has been restored to the picture gallery that is a feature of Broadway's best-known theatrical restaurant (Sardi's) after a 20-year absence.

Miss Roth was one of the first celebrities to be caricatured by the restaurant's first artist, Alex Gard, but the portrait was stored away when she slipped out of show business. She recently resumed her career as a principal player in the musical "I Can Get It for You Wholesale," and the rehanging ensued.

Dowd Home Is Sold

BOONE, Iowa (UPI) — The birthplace of Mrs. Mamie Dowd Eisenhower, wife of the former president, has been sold to a Baptist church for $11,250. The church planned to tear down the building to make room for an educational building.

Smoking, Drinking, Travel Increase

CHICAGO (AP)—Measured by federal excise tax collections, smoking, drinking, travel and entertainment all increased among Americans last year.

The Commerce Clearing House reports there was a distinct drop in revenues from taxes on new cars, television sets, air conditioners, furs and other durable goods.

Collections from alcohol taxes jumped 106 million dollars, while tobacco taxes were up 63 million dollars. There also were gains in retailers' taxes on jewelry and cosmetics.

The industry-sponsored program of growing trees as crops under multiple-use forest management practices gained nearly a million acres in the first four months of 1962, according to American Forest Products Industries.

SWIMS ASHORE FOR HELP

Northgate Shop Center Plan Gains

Commercial zoning of about 13 acres of the Northgate Regional Shopping Center at Terra Linda was approved last night by the San Rafael City Planning Commission.

The commission's action, when supported by approval of the city council, will clear the way for the Draper Co. to go ahead with the major segment off its multi-million dollar shopping development.

Carlos E. Gonzales, engineer for Draper, said today the firm hopes to be ready to begin site development within two months. The second phase, much larger than the first, is expected to contain major department stores and other retail businesses.

Principal opposition to the zone change came from Commissioner Orlando Conti, who objected to the addition of intersections on Manuel Freitas Parkway. The Terra Linda offramp from the Highway 101 freeway intersects Freitas Parkway and feeds into the shopping center. Relocation of a proposed road in the tract will add another intersection nearby.

Another zone change application by Draper Industrial Properties Inc. was held over until the next commission meeting for study of deed restrictions designed to control industrial development of the 57-acre tract.

City Planner James R. Garrett, commenting on questions by the commission as to control of land use and future division of sites, said the deed restrictions constitute a "baby zoning ordinance" for the tract.

Gonzales assured the commission the restrictions will prevent future lot splits, thereby preserving the light industrial character of the tract.

The Draper industrial tract lies next to the Fairchild Semiconductor plant, east of Highway 101 in the Terra Linda area.

A first hearing was held on a zone change request by the San Rafael Elks Club for its property at Fifth Avenue and B Street. A second hearing will be held July 10.

The lodge, which received county supervisors' clearance yesterday for building new facilities in Santa Venetia, asks rezoning of a portion of the Fifth and B property so that all will be in the commercial district. A strip is now zoned for multiple residences.

The commission gave architectural approval to an office building at Lincoln Avenue and Pacheco Street for the First of California Mortgage Co.

It recommended to the city council that I Street be changed to Eye Street to ease confusion of the street name with the number 1. Appearing in behalf of the name change proposal was Vice Mayor Charles W. Aby, who lives at 20 I (or Eye) Street.

The San Rafael Planning Commission also:

1. Approved a use permit for Pacific Gas and Electric Co. to build a microwave tower at 820 Brooks Street.

2. Denied a use permit to Foster and Kleiser for a billboard on Francisco Boulevard at Irwin Street on grounds that it was not appurtenant to permitted use of the land, but granted the firm a billboard at Fourth Street and Lincoln Avenue on condition that it be used only to advertise Tidewater Oil Co., occupant of the property.

3. Approved plans by Henry Hess Lumber Co. for a sawdust and shavings storage bin on yard property at 629 Third Streets. The company had been ordered by the Pollution Control District to stop burning wood waste.

Firemen Given Choice Of Water

NORTH ROSE, N.Y. (AP)—M. E. Phillips says people do emotional, unpredictable and sometimes foolish things when there is a fire. A farmhouse blaze here in the middle of the night attracted a neighbor who rushed over to help.

"Is there anything I can do?" he asked a volunteer fireman.

"Yes!" shouted the fireman. "Get a pail of water!"

"Okay!" yelled the man, and darted away.

In a moment he was back, but without the pail.

"Do you want well water or rain water?" he asked the fireman.

Since many diseases can live in seed, it is unwise for the home gardener to save seed from his own garden unless he knows the seed to be free from disease.

Planners Nullify Park Site Action

San Rafael's planning commission last night nullified a previous action on its choice of a park site for Terra Linda, but there was little else the commissioners could do.

The commission, having been asked by the park and recreation department to pass judgment on three proposed park sites in the area, picked as the best one a five-acre parcel on Tamarack Drive.

Last night, however, the commission approved a final map for Terra Linda Unit No. 18, an 83-lot subdivision by Alameda Homes Corp. The proposed park site, according to engineer Carlos E. Gonzales, is "the heart of it."

The commission had little choice, however, because the final subdivision map compiled with the tentative map. The map approval is in the form of a recommendation to the city council, which now must give its approval to the subdivision.

The site was picked by the commission because it is centrally located and has the best terrain of the three under consideration.

The two remaining sites would not conflict with the subdivision. One is a 5½-acre parcel just behind a strip of Trellis Drive frontage. The other is a 6-acre parcel on a slope at the west end of Eshmeyer Drive.

GOP Luncheon Slated Friday

"Big Brother and the Abuse of Presidential Power" will be the theme of a noon meeting Friday at the Sheraton-Palace Hotel in San Francisco sponsored by the Bay Area Republican Alliance.

Henry B. Grandin Jr., Marin County president for the Alliance, is chairman for the luncheon, which he says will entail a "hard-hitting GOP attack on recent actions by the Kennedy Administration."

Speakers will include Dr. Warren L. Bostick of San Rafael, immediate past president of the California Medical Assn., who will explore the threat of "Big Brother in Medicine."

Child Hurt In Fall

A two-year-old girl, Leslie Aspey, was reported in satisfactory condition today at Marin General Hospital after she fell off a wall about 6 p.m. yesterday near her home at 13 San Pedro Road, San Rafael, and cracked her skull on a driveway. Leslie is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Aspey.

Hub Downtown To Be Discussed

San Anselmo's three million dollar Town Center Plan in general, and a half-million-dollar offstreet parking plan in particular, will be discussed on July 10 at a joint meeting of the city council and the Citizens Advisory Committee.

City Administrator Douglas Flautt said he would have only a few major items scheduled for the July 10 regular meeting so that the bulk of the evening can be spent on the downtown development plan.

The Citizens Advisory Committee asked for the "briefing session" with the city councilmen to acquaint them on details of downtown development before formal public hearings are scheduled.

Mansion Move Must Wait More

The elegant Pacific Heights mansion that was split in two to be moved from San Francisco to Belvedere must wait at least another day for a barge ride across San Francisco Bay to its new home.

Larkspur architect Norman Gilroy, who discovered and saved the house from destruction, said rocks on the bottom of the bay near the loading point must be dredged away before the mansion can be safely loaded. The move should be made tomorrow evening at high tide, he said.

Germs Are Given Autopsies

The victims: some common germs.

But exactly how did they die? Why do some bacteria become resistant to the same antibiotic so they can still sicken or kill humans?

A young medical scientist is performing autopsies on germs to get at the answers. He slices the dead germs into pieces about 1,000th of an inch thick and studies them under an electron microscope which can magnify objects 25,000 to 30,000 times their natural size.

Dr. George B. Chapman of Cornell University Medical College, New York City, finds that in two types of bacteria he has examined, the antibiotic gets inside the organism and destroys the nucleus. His pictures show holes inside the germs. Germs not treated with the drug are still intact.

Dr. Chapman described the changes in an exhibit today to the American Medical Association's annual convention.

A next step is to study strains of germs which resist the very antibiotics that kill their cousins. Do the resistant germs keep the antibiotic from penetrating their skins? Or does the drug get inside and still somehow fail to destroy the nucleus? The germ autopsies in highly magnified pictures promise to give such answers.

By learning how the drug works or fails to work, it could become possible chemically to design antibiotics that kill resistant germs. Such resistance to antibiotics is showing up in several kinds of dangerous bacteria.

A warning against giving children too much vitamin A was sounded by Dr. Charles N. Pease, Chicago orthopedic surgeon.

Excessive doses of the vitamin can slow or even stop bone growth, he said, reporting seven such cases of irreparable alterations in normal growth. Long bones of the body are very susceptible.

This bone trouble is rare, Dr. Pease said. The amount of vitamin A consumed in ordinary foods is safe. There's a large margin of safety between therapeutic doses of the vitamin and harmful amounts, he said.

Driver Examiner's Job Actually Quite Safe

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Despite the jokesters, it's fairly safe to be a driving license examiner.

The State Department of Motor Vehicles says, for example, that during April a total of 213,439 licenses were issued. And there were 23 minor accidents reported. No injuries.

Committee Wants Phonics In Schools

The Novato School Goals Committee pressed last night for immediate action on setting up a grade school phonics program, but was told the district's new superintendent will have to consider whether the program can be started next fall.

Members of the Novato Unified School District board held a study session on the committee's majority report, which includes recommendation for a reading program having "a thorough grounding in a phonics program."

The board also received, but did not discuss, a minority report of the goals committee, signed by members David Patterson, Mrs. Warren B. Smith, George Pelmear and Mrs. Alice D. Yarish.

This report differed from the majority report principally in three recommendations. It urged (1) that requirements for high school graduation not be lowered, (2) that the high school change from a six-period to seven-period day, and (3) that an intensive program for correcting reading deficiencies be started in the third grade.

The majority report called for reducing high school graduation requirements from four years of English and social studies to three years, and from two years of mathematics and sciences to one year—which would still meet state requirements.

Several members of the goals committee urged that the phonics program be started with opening of school in September. Committee member J. Douglas McNeil said Ralph Giovaniello, assistant district superintendent in charge of instruction who has since resigned to head San Jose School District, had told the committee this could be done.

Trustee Marrett Boissevain Jr. said the board should make no decision until James K. Bunker, hired to replace William J. J. Smith as superintendent, takes over July 1.

McNeil countered that the board should make a decision lest a year be lost in instituting the program.

The majority report proposed a committee work with the assistant superintendent in charge of instruction during the summer to prepare a reading program correlated with state texts but including phonics.

The minority report rapped the proposal for lowering graduation standards as doing "great disservice," to the students who need "complete, terminal, scholastic education at the high school level—those who will not go on to college and will never again enter a classroom."

In urging the remedial reading program, it said "there is a strong correlation between poor reading and dropping out of school."

Board chairman Earl Marshall said the board will meet with the goals committee for another study session at 8 p.m. July 10.

Teachers Endorse Ralph Richardson

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Dr. Ralph Richardson, Los Angeles Board of Education president, was endorsed by the governing council of the California Teachers Association for state superintendent of public instruction in a mail plebiscite, it was announced today.

Mrs. Sarah Carter, Eureka High School English teacher and president of the 125,000 member state teachers organization, announced Dr. Richardson had won the CTA's endorsement by a vote of nearly 10 to 1 over Max Rafferty, who quit as La Canada superintendent of schools to enter the primary election.

The famous redwood trees of California actually belong to two different species of conifers. The California redwood, or Sequoia sempervirens, grows only along the coast of Northern California. Its cousin, the Sequoia gigantea or Big Tree grows in California's High Sierra above 5,000 feet.

BROWN SAYS DRUG LAW STILL INTACT

SACRAMENTO (AP)— California's 1961 anti-narcotics laws —combining tough penalties with rehabilitation—are not affected by a U.S. Supreme Court decision striking down a state statute making addiction a crime.

That's the opinion expressed yesterday by Gov. Edmund G. Brown after a preliminary study of the high court's decision.

Brown noted the decision was directed against a 1939 law which made addiction to narcotics, by itself, a misdemeanor.

He said the decision stated laws providing for civil commitment of addicts for treatment, not criminal punishment, are constitutional.

The new laws, passed by the 1961 legislature, sets up procedures by which addicts can be committed to a medical facility for a minimum of six months and a maximum of five years followed by tight parole supervision and testing with narcotic-detecting drugs.

It also provides terms up to life in prison for repeat convictions for sale, use or possession of narcotics.

Bible Page Traps Hit-Run Driver

HONOLULU (AP)—Police got an unexpected assist from the Bible in the arrest of a man suspected of hit-and-run.

They found a page torn out of Ivory W. Collins' Bible after he was struck by a car at a Honolulu intersection. A witness gave a license number and police tracked down an address.

Boy Makes Self At Home In Hotel

NEW YORK (AP)—An elevator load of guests at New York's Commodore Hotel was startled when the elevator stopped at the 14th floor and a 12-year-old boy, clad in pajamas and carrying a pillow, got aboard.

"Where are you going sonny?" asked the elevator operator.

"Sixteen," said the boy.

"What are you going to do up there?"

"We're going to have a pillow fight," said the boy, "and I'm bringing my own pillow."

Address Listed Wrong In Report Of Theft

San Rafael police said today that an address error evidently had been made in a report of an allegel liquor theft from a car patronizing a "car wash, 931 Second Avenue."

Edward Wade of Wade's Polish Service at that address said the theft victim was not one of his customers and that he does no cash washing.

Sergeants Save Boy, 10, From Death In Lagoon

Joseph Glenn of Sacramento was trying to swim from a raft to the lagoon shore at about 3 p.m., Army spokesmen said, when he was seen by Sgt. Jack R. Riley and Sgt. Robert K. Alley, driving to the Nike site.

Alley jumped into the lagoon and dragged the boy to shore, while Riley stopped a passing motorist who called an Army ambulance.

The sergeants gave Joseph artificial respiration, and the boy was taken to Letterman Hospital at the Presidio of San Francisco, where he was examined and found unharmed.

The boy, visiting the family of Sp5 Melvin P. Johnson at Fort Barry. He was to return to Sacramento today.

Larkspur Zoning Law Discussion Delayed

Larkspur's proposed new zoning ordinance will be discussed by the city planning commission at its meeting at 8 p.m. July 10, City Clerk Mrs. Isabelle Moore said today. The matter did not come up at last night's meeting because of a large number of variances, lot splits, etc., on the agenda.

Novato Council Grants Zoning For Apartments

Master plan or no master plan, Novato is going to have apartments scattered around town, the city council decided last night in granting two rezonings.

Alfred Bellucci was granted a zone change from single family to garden apartments for three and one-half acres at Diablo Avenue and Center Road: Jack and Beatrice Caristi were given the same zone change for land at Hill and Diablo Avenues, across from Novato Hospital.

Bellucci's rezoning had been denied by the planning commission. He appealed to the city council.

County planner Robert Lagel told the council the application was denied by the planning commission because "it was contrary to the master guide." He admitted the land is adjacent to a triangle that was zoned commercially.

Mayor M. E. Silva said there were five people on the council capable of making decisions, or they could take the master plan and "live up to it like the Bible."

"It's a philosophy of life," argued Councilman Howard Schoof, who was a member of the planning commission at the time of the hearings on the Bellucci request.

Councilman Everett Pozzi said he wanted to see apartment houses scattered over town. "We have them now and they are all right," he said.

Schoof moved and Councilman Lucille Cannon (also a former planning commission member) seconded a motion to uphold the planning commission's denial. They were defeated by the other three councilmen.

Councilman John Angeloni's motion to grant the rezoning then carried three to two.

On the Caristi request, Mrs. Cannon reversed her stand and made the motion to start proceedings for a zone change. Schoof cast the only dissenting vote.

Hospital Board Seeks Nov. 6 Election Date

Consolidation of election of three directors of Marin County Hospital District with the Nov. 6 general election will be asked by the district.

Directors voted last night to ask the county board of supervisors to consolidate the elections. The district operates Marin General Hospital in Greenbrae.

SEEK ANNEXATION

The board approved petitioning the city of Larkspur, asking for annexation of the hospital property to the city.

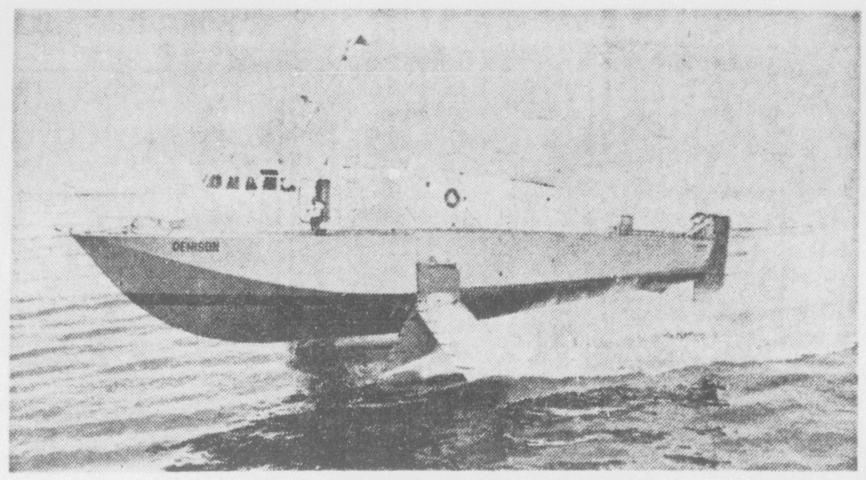
It authorized that the annual audit be conducted by the San Francisco firm of Hood and Strong, as in the past.

It approved Dr. Dallas L. Wagner of San Rafael for another year beginning July 1 as chief of staff. Directors ratified his recommendation for retention of his staff for the same period: Dr. Richard Schneider, anesthesia; Dr. John Manwaring, clinical services; Dr. Thomas Grayson, general practice; Dr. Lee Cecil, medicine; Dr. C. A. Lesko, obstetrics and gynecology; Dr. W. O. Ball, pediatrics, and Dr. Charles Secor, surgery.

DOCTOR ADMITTED

Dr. Harvey R. Forester, with offices at Tamalpais Junction, Mill Valley, was approved as an associate to the medical staff. He has assumed the practice of Dr. Donald Fowler of Mill Valley, retired.

The board received from the Marin General Hospital auxiliary a check for $2,315. Mrs. Harrison McNear, retiring president, also presented a check for $301 for memorial contributions in memory of Mrs. Jack Stephens, who was an auxiliary member.



HIGH SPEED SHIP TESTED

The H. S. Denison, 90-ton ocean-going hydrofoil ship, yesterday skimmed over Long Island Sound at 50 knots on a test run in New York. Later tests will be made in the Atlantic. The craft rises on hydrofoils at 26 knots, clearing the water with its hull to reduce normal friction and increase its speed. (AP Wirephoto)

Extraordinary Bid To Rehear Nursery School Permit Fails

An extraordinary attempt to bring about rehearing of an already approved Tiburon Peninsula nursery school permit failed yesterday when Marin County supervisors decided that allegations of misrepresentation had not been substantiated.

Supervisor Peter Behr, who on May 16 had been sole dissenter to 4-1 approval of an application to establish Bel Aire Nursery School in a single-family dwelling of 255 Karen Way, had asked it be reopened.

Opponents charged that Mr. and Mrs. Aram Zailian Jr. had gained the permit through misrepresentation.

Finally it was Behr who moved, with unanimous board support, that the matter be dropped due to lack of substantiation.

Attorney Leland H. Jordan for the Zailians said he had examined the law and could find only "complete absence of authority to reopen and reconsider except under the most extraordinary circumstances."

A letter to Behr from a "Committee Opposing Nursery School Permit" was supported by an opposition petition signed by 136 objecting neighbors.

Points made by the letter included a statement that though the Zailians had said there was no objection from neighbors, in fact there was objection; that a letter from School Supt. Virgil S. Hollis was actually only an endorsement of "day care" rather than a recommendation for a nursery school, and that the Zailians had said they wouldn't seek customers from outside the area but were in fact doing so.

Jordan spoke of Zailian as a teacher of high reputation and said the Zailians had initially polled neighbors who did not object.

"In two months there was no indication that this wasn't considered a good thing," he declared.

As to Dr. Hollis, Jordan said his use of the phrase "day school" rather than "nursery school" was a matter of semantics, and that Hollis stood ready to tell the board he was fully aware of what he was recommending.

Behr finally summed up that clearly a great deal of hard feeling had developed but that there was no showing in support of the charges.

Chairman Walter R. Castro said his original vote had been on evidence as presented and "there is no proof of misstatement." The board then voted to end consideration.

7th, 8th Graders For One School Is Urged

All Larkspur School District seventh and eighth graders should be put in one school—perferably Neil Cummins School—the district board of trustees was told last night.

But the older pupils should not be moved from the four district schools they now attend until the district can provide finances, transportation and enough classrooms at Neil Cummins for both a centralized seventh-eighth grade program and the lower grades, said a citizens committee report.

The committee said it spent 2,000 work hours preparing a nine-page report on seventh and eighth grade education. It presented the results in flowing educationalese.

"We recommend," said the report, "uniform semi-departmentalization with core for class structure in order to maintain the security which the self-contained classroom affords, and still provide specialization in academic areas. Students will also adjust with less difficulty to the full departmentalization of high school if a gradual transition is made at this important level."

Commenting that members of the audience didn't appear to understand the terminology, committee members explained:

1. Seventh and eighth graders "adjust" better if they have the same teacher for two periods a day, then change classes for specialized subjects.

2. Students have difficulty changing directly from the one-teacher grammar school system to the high school method of switching teachers each period.

3. Students get better instruction if the teacher specializes in one subject.

4. Partial class changes for seventh and eighth graders in the four Larkspur schools could be accomplished now only "in a small, unequal way."

The committee considered what courses should be taught in a seventh-eighth grade school and decided on an emphasis on reading because "everything man knows is recorded in books." Science laboratories should be provided and modern mathematics should be taught.

Reading the section on "articulation," committee chairman H. C. Stephenson said: "One of the greatest needs for improvement in our district program is in the area of articulation. An important factor of an education program is the proper correlation between all the grades so that the subject matter continues in scope."

Board chairman Jack L. Mengel told members of the audience who rose to ask how students would be transported to a central school that the students might have to walk.

The committee said the district should immediately hire a profession al educationalist to organize a seventh and eighth grade program.

"We don't plan to simply accept the report," said Mengel, "but to study it and see how it can be used."

In other action, the board:

1. Accepted the resignation of teacher Mary Strumm, whose husband is leaving the area.

2. Agreed to advertise two transportation bids, one limiting bus service for seventh and eighth graders for those from San Clemente School to Neil Cummins School only, the other for all students, kindergarten through eighth grade.

3. Set a special meeting at 7:30 p.m. Monday for election of officers; agreed to discuss unification and budget at meetings July 10 and 24.

Extension Of Air Strike Ban Ordered

NEW YORK (AP)—A federal judge has ordered a 10-day extension of his temporary ban against a strike by Pan American World Airways' 500 flight engineers.

Daniel Kornblum, counsel to the engineers' union, said he would seek an immediate review of U.S. Dist. Judge George Rosling's action by the U.S. Court of Appeals.

Rosling ordered the extension yesterday 20 minutes before the expiration of his order which last Saturday ended a strike against Pan Am four hours after it started.

Rosling called counsel for Pan Am and the union back before him again today for continued argument on the airline's application for a full-fledged injunction.

Eastern Air Lines—shut down since Saturday when the engineers struck it along with Pan Am—said it would await the outcome of further court proceedings in the Pan Am case before deciding on its course of action.

Eastern said resumption of service would take several days to arrange, and added: "If resumed under present circumstances, there would be no assurance that operations would continue."

That was widely interpreted to mean that Eastern was reluctant to resume flights under a court order that was only temporary.

The issue between the two airlines and the AFL-CIO Flight Engineers International Assn. is basically the engineers' fight to preserve their jobs when the cockpit crews of jet airliners are reduced soon from four to three men. The engineers want to get the third seat in the cockpit along with two pilots. They also fear their union would be swallowed up by the larger AFL-CIO Air Line Pilots Assn. in the proposed merger of the two unions.

Hallinan Stresses Kidd's Request For Lie Detector

Robert Lee Kidd's repeated requests to be allowed to take lie detector tests as part of his defense in a torture murder case were stressed in a San Francisco court yesterday by his Belvedere attorney, Vincent Hallinan.

Hallinan, defending Kidd without fee in a third trial for the 1954 killing of San Francisco antique dealer Albert Clark, attempted to nail down San Francisco Police Inspector William Hamlet as to knowledge that Kidd wanted the tests. This was in connection with Hamlet's assertion that Kidd's finger prints appeared on two ceremonial swords said to have been used in the murder.

Hamlet responded that he hadn't asked for the detector tests, and that he was uncertain as to whether he had discussed Kidd's requests with the inspector in overall charge of investigation.

Hallinan also attacked the issue as to whether the swords actually were employed in the killing.

After Dr. Robert Gasber had described his autopsy on the repeatedly slashed body of Clark, Hallinan made him concede that the slashes weren't "necessarily" inflicted by either of the weapons introduced in evidence by the prosecution.

Movies Enliven Summer Reading

Three films will be shown for youngsters tomorrow in Sausalito in connection with the public library's summer reading program.

Time of showing is 3:30 p.m. and, according to Mrs. Josephine Ripley, librarian, children should assemble at the library, then go to the city council chambers for viewing.

The movies are "The Black Bear Twins" and "Hercules," each 11 minutes in length, and "The Impressionable Years," a 30-minute film about the first experiences of a young girl in the children's room of the New York Public Library.

Auto Is Stolen

Mrs. Dexter Liscum, 20 Hickory Road, said she discovered the loss after awakening yesterday. She had not left keys in the car, she said. License number is RSJ 212.

Sweden's first auto-carrying passenger train is now being operated by the Swedish State Railroads between Stockholm and Malmo.

Trousseau Hot Checks Jail Bride-To-Be

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — A bride-to-be was arrested on what was to have been her wedding day and charged with forging checks to buy a trousseau.

Miss Alberta Nestor, 26, was accused of signing the name of her finance's aunt to 15 checks totaling $729.

Santa Clara Phenom Garibaldi To Sign With Giants

Just in a spirit of celebrating early-day "news" reporting, The Bullpen today expresses a desire to round up a flock of baseball reporters and say—

"Why the hell don't you fellows tell the S.F. Giant fans that Bob Garibaldi, Santa Clara pitching ace, is a member of the San Francisco Giants?" (I'll admit he actually hasn't signed a Giant contract but I'll also say he has accepted terms.)

Why wait until some well-intentioned public servant, who sits at a desk and uses telephones, relays the news with the explanation that "Horace Stoneham or Eddie Brannick, announces the acquisition of Bob Garibaldi, Santa Clara pitching phenom at a 'reported' bonus price of $150,000."

I happen to know Garibaldi already has agreed to Giant terms.

Mebbe he won't get all the dough they say they paid him to sign.

Mebbe they'll pay him in government bonds instead of cash.

But Bob Garibaldi, just as sure as shooting, is already a member of the Giants. He'll join them, maybe next week.

In case you don't know, the Giants already have a "spot" for him. They only have 24 players under contract and they are allowed 25. That's why they chased Dick Le May back to Tacoma. It was to make room for the collegian pitching phenom.

The BULLPEN

With JOHN J. CONNOLLY

There never will be any way to tell exactly how much "moola" Garibaldi gets. The real fun is guessing how he gets it.

The Giants can give him cash, which Garibaldi doesn't want, or they can add $150,000 to his monthly salary over a five year period, and both the Giants and Garibaldi beat the tax deal.

By that I mean if the Giants decide to pay Garibaldi a salary of $10,000 a year to start with, they could add to that $30,000 a year bonus money, and in five years the kid would be paid off.

But the way Garibaldi gets paid isn't interesting. I only know he's a Giant right now unless he changes his mind between now and next Monday.

Sly and sometime foxy Ole Tom Sheehan, top Giant scout, did the fernickling for Garibaldi's services.

Sheehan didn't go to the College World's Series last week. He'd seen enough of the kid pitching phenom. He stayed at home and warded off newsmen by saying—Garibaldi will finish college—he won't sign."

But while saying it I detected a grin on Ole Tom's face.

Tom admitted he talked with the entire Garibaldi family. And he told me he had the bankroll of Horace Stoneham at his beck and call.

What else did he need?

The signing of Garibaldi, when it is officially announced, will be the biggest story in San Francisco history since the sale of Joe DiMaggio to the Yankees, Willie Kamm to the White Sox or Jimmy O'Connell to the Giants.

Garibaldi will, if he wins for the Giants, pay them his bonus price back in ten well pitched games. He should become the greatest gate attraction since Willie Mays first blazoned across the National League horizon.

I think he'll be even a greater drawing card than any Irishman the Giants ever signed.

WIMBLEDON

McKinley Is Eliminated

By HENRY W. THORNBERRY

WIMBLEDON, England (UPI)—Chuck McKinley of St. Ann, Mo., shackled by a pulled muscle in his right arm, was eliminated from the Wimbledon Tennis Championships today by Mike Hann, an unheralded Englishman, 6-3, 6-2, 6-2.

The chunky McKinley said nothing about an injury before the start of his match, but he was in obvious pain and his game was far off form as he bowed out of the tournament in straight sets.

This was the second major upset within the past two days of the 76th All-England championships. McKinley was regarded as the leading American contender for the men's title.

Whitney Reed of Alameda, unseeded here although he is ranked No. 1 in the U.S., was expected to ease into the third round at the expense of Fred McMillan of South Africa.

IN GOOD GRACES

Dennis Ralston of Bakersfield, back in the good graces of the U.S. Lawn Tennis Assn., drew the center court for his match against Russia's Sergei Likhachev; Chris Crawford of Piedmont met Dr. John Fraser of Australia; Frank Froehling of Coral Gables, Fla., took on Bill Bowery of Australia; and Don Dell of Bethesda, Md., opposed India's Jaidir Mukerjea.

The day's toughest task was drawn by Mal Fox of Baltimore, Md., who faced a tough struggle against Alan Mills of England.

Laver, considered by many experts to be a better player now than he was last year, drew Tony Pickard of England as his second-round opponent. Second-seeded Roy Emerson of Australia met Wilhelm Bungert of Germany and third-seeded Neale Fraser of Australia opposed compatriot Geoff Pares.

WOMEN'S SINGLES

With four representatives already assured of third round berths in the women's singles, the U.S. hoped to add another four today.

One American girl faced elimination when Justina Bricka of St. Louis met Judy Alvarez of Tampa, Fla. In other matches, Mrs. Karen Hantze Susman of San Antonio, Tex., opposed Pat Hird of England, Gwyneth Thomas of Shaker Heights, Ohio, took on Elizabeth Starkie of England, and Nancy Richey of Dallas, Tex., was matched against Mary Hawton of Australia.

The four U.S. girls who drew first-round byes and then won second-round matches yesterday are Billie Jean Moffitt and Darlene Hard, both of Long Beach, Vicky Palmer of Phoenix, Ariz., and Carole Caldwell of Santa Monica.

Miss Moffitt was the author of one of the greatest upsets in Wimbledon women's history by beating top-seeded Margaret Smith of Australia, 1-6, 6-3, 7-5, yesterday. The 19-year-old, stocky Californian trailed 2-5 in the final set before rallying to eliminate Mrs. Smith, who had been regarded as the world's top women's player.

Witt Remains In Contention For Net Play

Reed Witt of Larkspur and other high seeded players remained in contention today as the 15th annual U.S. Lawn Tennis Assn. Junior Hard Court Championships moved into its third day at the Burlingame Peninsula Country Club.

Jane Albert of Pebble Beach, top seeded for girls of 16, scored a second round victory over Carolee Packard of Palo Alto, 6-0, 6-0. Steve Turpen of Sacramento, top seeded on the boys of 14 singles, defeated John Spiegel of Berkeley, 6-1, 6-3.

Pam Teeguarden of Los Angeles, top seeded for girls of 12, won twice. She beat Chris Slade of Redwood City, 6-1, 6-0, and blanked Sherry Fickert of San Lorenzo, 6-0, 6-0.

Yesterday results of Marin competitors were:

Boys' Singles, 16 — Greg Parkerson of Novato defeated Steve Chandler, 6-2, 6-0; Ron Klyce of San Rafael lost to James Hobson, 6-0, 6-0.

THE WINNING RUN — San Francisco outfielder Felipe Alou, running for leftfielder Willie McCovey, slides safely at the plate for winning run in tenth inning of last night's game with Cincinnati as Red catcher John Edwards tries to tag Alou out. Orlando Cepeda got the hit that scored Alou. Plate umpire Ed Sudol called the play, which resulted in an extended argument with almost the entire Cincinnati team. No. 12 is Giant third baseman Jim Davenport. (AP Wirephoto)

N.L. ROUNDUP

Al Dark A Genius

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Al Dark's a genius!

Or so it seemed last night as events unfolded at San Francisco, where the Giants' manager came up with a series of maneuvers resulting in a 6-5, 10-inning victory over Cincinnati that sent the Giants back into first place in the National League pennant scramble.

Dark made his first move in the seventh inning when the Giants, trailing 4-0, loaded the bases with pitcher Jack Sanford due at bat. Dark looked down his bench for a pinch hitter and selected Ed Bailey, hitless in his last 17 trips to the plate.

In the 10th, Dark's pre-game strategy paid off as Willie McCovey, inserted in the line-up against right-hander Joey Jay, opened with a single. Going to his reserves again, Dark sent Felipe Alou in to run for McCovey.

Alou broke from first as Orlando Cepeda rifled a single to right center, daringly rounded third as Vada Pinson fired the ball into the infield and decided to try and go all the way. He beat Don Blasingame's relay sliding under the tag with the winning run.

The triumph pushed the Giants back on top for the first time since June 8, a half-game ahead of the Los Angeles Dodgers, who were limited to five hits by Lew Burdette in a 2-1 Milwaukee victory.

Third-place Pittsburgh whipped the New York Mets 5-2, fourth-place St. Louis walloped the Chicago Cubs 15-3 and Philadelphia defeated Houston twice, 2-0 on Jack Hamilton's two-hitter and 6-4.

After Bailey's grand slam tied it in the seventh, the Reds went back in front in the top of the eighth on a triple by Johnny Edwards and a single by pinch-hitter Jerry Lynch. Edwards earlier had hit a two-run homer. In the last of the eighth, Jim Davenport again knotted the score with a homer and set it up for the 10th inning fireworks that gave Stu Miller (4-3) the victory and Dave Sisler (2-3) the loss.

Burdette, who lost his first four decisions, won his sixth in a row with his fourth complete game. He lost his shutout in the ninth on Maury Wills' single, Jim Gilliam's double and Tommy Davis' sacrifice fly. Singles by Del Grandall and Frank Bolling around a walk accounted for the first run off Dodger starter Sandy Koufax (10-4) in the second. The Braves pushed across what proved to be the clincher in the sixth when Hank Aaron reached base on Wills' error, moved to third on Lee Maye's single and came across on a sacrifice fly by Frandall.

HOLE-IN-ONE GOLF CONTEST SET JULY 4-8

The third annual hole-in-one golf contest sponsored by the Blessed Sacrament Men's Club will be held at the Las Gallinas Driving Range off Highway 101 two miles north of San Rafael July 4 through 8.

First prize for the person either sinking a hole-in-one, or coming the closest, will be $100. Proceeds of the contest will go to the Blessed Sacrament School fund.

Starting time July 4, 7 and 8 will be 10 a.m. Starting time July 5 and 6 will be 7 p.m. Last year's contest was won by Ned De Grazio who sunk a hole-in-one.

Ump—Safe! Reds—Ach!

The unswooning San Francisco Giants are back in first place—in June, yet.

But Cincinnati figures the Giants should be about as far from the National League lead as it claims Felipe Alou was from home plate in the 10th inning play last night that put San Francisco on top.

The margin in each case is a half length. The Giants' 6-5 victory put them a half game ahead of Los Angeles instead of a half game behind and the Reds are fuming that Alou missed scoring the winning run by half a stride when he sped three bases on Orlando Cepeda's single to right-center field.

The hair-raising victory, accomplished after the Giants came from behind twice on Ed Bailey's pinch grand slam homer and Jim Davenport's home run, was No. 4 in a row and put San Francisco in the lead for the first time since June 8.

The Giants sent Mike McCormick (4-2) against the Reds' Ted Wills (0-0) today in a bid to protect the margin.

Alou's winnish dash, reminiscent of Enos Slaughter's three-base sprint that won the 1946 World Series for the St. Louis Cardinals, was set up by a hit-run signal.

With the game tied 5-5, Willie McCovey led off the 10th with a single. Alou, out of the starting lineup with a sore elbow, went in as a pinch runner.

The hit-run was flashed with the count 2-0 to Cepeda. Alou was off with the pitch and nearly was to third when Vada Pinson fielded Cepeda's looping liner in deep right-center.

"There was no doubt in my mind he could make it," said third base coach Whitey Lockman. The Giants dugout agreed, nearly everyone yelling "send him in."

Alou, a former Dominican Republic Olympic Games sprinter, sped toward the plate, hit the dirt and, as Lockman saw it, "had the play a little better than tied."

A trail of discarded catching equipment and a turned over garbage can led to Edwards' stall in the Cincinnati locker room.

"Alou never got to the plate," Edwards said angrily. "I had the ball and he didn't get within two feet of scoring. But you can't win an argument with those guys."

Manager Fred Hutchinson agreed with his catcher. "The throw beat him and Edwards had the plate blocked. How's Alou going to get in there?"

Alou said he beat the throw and knew he slid over the plate. "I didn't know about going in," he smiled. "But I saw Whitey waving me so I went. But it was hard going."

A. L. ROUNDUP

No-Hitter By An Unlikely Hurler

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

With thunderbolt swiftness matching the speed of his blazing fastball, Earl Wilson has zoomed to glittering stardom from the ranks of baseball's lesser known performers.

Last night at Boston's Fenway Park, the Red Sox righthander pitched the second nohitter of the American League season—a 2-0 triumph over the Los Angeles Angels. Ironically, his defeated opponent was the year's other no-hit pitcher, funloving southpaw Bo Belinsky, who rocketed to fame with his masterpiece over Baltimore May 5.

Wilson, a strong-armed excatcher from Ponchatoula, La., allowed four men to reach base on walks and struck out five as he "just threw as hard as I could all the way."

He also gave himself all the support he needed with his second home run of the year.

Although his record in seven previous seasons as a professional has been far from sensational, Wilson has been highly regarded as a potential star by the Red Sox brass. Now the tall, 220-pound Negro has shed the "potential."

Pitching also sparkled elsewhere in the league. Cleveland salvaged a one-game lead in the standings, beating Detroit 3-1 on a combined four-hitter by Bob Hartman and Gary Bell and Al Luplow's 12th-inning homer after being blanked on six hits by Jim Bunning in the opener of the doubleheader, 6-0. Camilo Pascual struck out 12 and Rich Rollins did some heavy slugging as runnerup Minnesota trimmed New York 5-0. Milt Pappas of Baltimore fired a four-hit, 1-0 victory over Chicago. Kansas City rookie Dan Pfister won his first in the big time, edging Washington 2-1 with a six-hit performance.

FOUR SHUTOUTS

All told, just 21 runs in six games—and four shutouts.

Like Belinsky, Wilson was an unlikely candidate for pitching stardom at season's start. He had been unimpressive in two previous short stays with the Red Sox—in 1959 and 1960—and was no better than 9-14 with Seattle of the Pacific Coast League last year.

This season the strapping, 26-year-old Louisianan had failed to go the distance in nine starts, although he had done well enough to win five of seven decisions.

Los Angeles' only real threat of a hit came in the ninth when lead-off man Billy Moran lifted a pop fly to short left which Eddie Bressoud snared with a running, over-the-shoulder catch. Two Angels managed to reach second base after walks.

Belinsky allowed just three hits in his seven innings but all three cost him. Wilson slugged his homer in the third, then singles by Pete Runnels and Carroll Hardy after an error gave Boston its second run.

LITTLE SPORT By Rouson

'U.S. Sports In Jeopardy'

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—America's world supremacy in track and field is in jeopardy because of the battle between the National Amateur Athletic Union and the U.S. Track and Field Federation (college coaches).

Coaches, officials and athletes agree that something must be done—and soon—to draw the two warring factions together so that the country can put its finest athletes on the line in international competition.

"This is a revolution," says John Oelkers of Tulane, coach of the United States team against the Russians, "and history shows that revolutions always weaken a country, if not totally destroy it."

Oelkers, a college coach, is in the middle to some extent. He can see both sides of the problem. But even more in the middle are the Athletes themselves.

There's the case of University of Oregon's fine sub-four minute milers, Dyrol Burleson and Keith Foreman, not running in the mile in the AAU meet. Their coach, Bill Bowerman, is a prime mover in the track federation and personally at war with the AAU.

And there are other instances. It's not good for the Athletes, and it's not good for U.S. international competition.

The AAU, an autocratic organization in the past, is feeling the pressure. In an attempt to get support from the Athletes, the AAU has named Bill Sharpe of the Philadelphia Pioneer Club and Jim Beatty of the Los Angeles Track Club as "player representatives" for the Poland and Russia meets.

Beatty is an articulate and forward-looking young athlete, in addition to being one of the world's greatest athletes.

"The AAU and the track coaches have just got to get together," says the little miler. "We've got to pull together if we are going to keep on top. Neither side is all right or all wrong."

One of the short-sighted actions of the AAU has been the failure of the organization to consider NCAA coaches for anything except to develop talent. They have no say in regulatory matters. They have no voting privileges.

Another has been a failure to have post-college clubs where athletes can train. About 80 per cent of top U.S. college athletes quit training after they finish school. In foreign countries they are just starting to reach their peak in their late twenties.

Parents Quizzed For Citizenship

Seven-year-old Michael R. Conner not long ago was scratching his red curly hair trying to figure out what was going on. To him, it didn't seem right.

His parents, Lt. Col. and Mrs. Worth C. Conner, 598 Thyme Place, Terra Linda, were being asked all the questions, yet he was the one who was becoming a United States citizen.

Mrs. Conner explained that she and her husband were the ones receiving the most questions when Michael was examined for citizenship.

"They wanted to make sure we would raise him as a good citizen," she said. She also said that Michael was a little disappointed in not taking much part in the discussion.

But Michael had his day later when he and 147 other new citizens crowded into a federal courtroom in San Francisco to raise their hands and take the oath as citizens. His blue eyes flashed with excitement.

Later in the day, Michael's teacher in first grade at Don Timoteo School asked him to tell his classmates about it.

Michael was born in Heidelberg, Germany. Colonel and Mrs. Conner adopted him when he was 2½. This was when Colonel Conner was serving with the Army.

He has since retired after 20 years' service and is now on the staff of the Tooele Ordnance Depot at Tooele, Utah.

Michael has an older sister, April, 8. He does not speak any German, but there was a time before he learned to talk when he could understand it, his mother said. She hopes he will learn it again.

Health Department Schedules 11 Low-Cost Rabies Clinics

Dog days are here again — dog vaccination days, that is.

The Marin County Health Department's low-cost public clinics for vaccination of dogs against rabies will begin July 9.

First clinic will be at the San Anselmo Corporation Yard at the end of San Francisco Boulevard, San Anselmo.

Eleven dog vaccination clinics are scheduled in nine different locations, announced Dr. Carolyn B. Albrecht, county health officer.

Second will be in the health department's parking lot, 920 Grand Avenue, San Rafael July 11.

Hours for all clinics will be 6 to 8 p.m. Cost will be $2 per dog.

"Again this year Marin has been declared a rabies area under the state law," Dr. Albrecht noted, "with nine rabid animals found in this county last year." Of this number, seven were skunks, one calf and one raccoon. To date this year one rabid skunk and one rabid bat have been reported.

"The menace of rabies is obviously very much with us," says Dr. Albrecht, "and our best protection for humans lies in having all dogs vaccinated."

State law which requires that all dogs over four months of age in a rabies area (such as Marin) must be vaccinated against rabies and licensed. Since vaccination (with chick embryo vaccine) lasts two years, dogs vaccinated since January 1, 1961, need not be revaccinated for licensing this year. Deadline for licensing is Aug. 31.

Additional public clinics on the schedule are:

July 17, Mill Valley Corporation Yard; July 19, county fire department, Woodacre; July 24, Marion School, Novato; July 26, Stinson Beach; July 31, county fire station, Point Reyes Station; Aug. 2, 500 Tamalpais Avenue, Corte Madera; Aug. 6, 920 Grand Avenue, San Rafael; Aug. 8, Marion School Novato; Aug. 13, Vallecito School, Terra Linda.

Each dog must be accompanied by a responsible person, 16 years or over, and be held on a strong leash, said Dr. Albrecht. Any dog that is vicious or unruly and cannot be handled easily will not be vaccinated at the public clinic.

A dog that is sick will not be vaccinated.

County Will Have Own Resident Smog Sniffer

Marin County is to have a permanently assigned air pollution inspector, county supervisors learned yesterday.

A letter from Benjamin Linsky, control officer for the Bay Area Air Pollution Control District, expressed hope that civic center accommodation would be provided to the extent of a desk, a telephone and somebody to take messages.

Linsky said the district now has seven inspectors and eight more will be starting work July 1.

D. J. Callahan, chief administration officer for the district, was present in the board chamber.

Callahan said there are plenty of desks for district personnel in San Francisco but that counties were expected to provide furniture as a measure of cooperation.

The board, however, took no step to provide office furniture for the smog patrolman.

Station Is Not Obliged To Air Disc Jockey Show

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Radio station KFRC does not have to broadcast the efforts of disc jockey Bob Colvig just because he has his $15,000 a year job again, Superior Judge Byron Arnold ruled today.

"An audience isn't necessary," the judge said. "He can practice."

Colvig, 44, was fired after blond model Toni Whalen, 22, killed her newborn baby in his Sausalito apartment. Colvig was cleared of any implication and subsequently was reinstated in his job through arbitration.

But he didn't return to the air. The American Federation of Radio and Television Artists sued to force the station to broadcast Colvig.

1,154 Blameless Die In Wrecks

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The California Highway Patrol says that 1,154 innocent persons met death on California's highways last year.

These are persons who were, according to Commissioner Bradford M. Crittenden, "literally driven to their deaths by some one else."

"The thoughtless acts of a careless or inconsiderate driver imperil not only himself," Crittenden said. "They jeopardize the lives of his passengers, persons who have no way of protecting themselves."

Spanish, Russian Dances Slated

A program of character dances, ballet and guitar music will be presented Sunday at 3 p.m. in Angelico Hall of Dominican College, San Rafael.

The dances, performed by Mimi Janislawski, daughter of Capt. and Mrs. Stanley Janislawski of Sausalito, will be from Tchaikovsky's "Nutcracker Suite, Hungarian and Russian czaradas, Spanish dances and a new set of dances from "Faust's Ballet Suite."

Miss Janislawski, a student at the Royal Academy of Dance in San Francisco, will be accompanied by guitarist Manolo Sangre.

Fund Deal With Bank Saves State $173,000

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — State Treasurer Bert A. Betts says that a collection agreement with Wells Fargo Bank that has saved the state more than $173,000 in the past three years has been renewed.

Before the 1959 agreement with the bank, the state had maintained $2 million as a non-interest-bearing balance to compensate for collection service.

There are 167 years of Beam family history behind the good taste of Beam
In 1795 Jacob Beam settled in Kentucky and created the now famous Beam Bourbon formula. Today, Beam Bourbon is still being carefully distilled and aged according to the original formula by the 5th and 6th generations of the Beam family. That is why only Beam tastes like Beam . . . only Beam tastes so good.

Peacock Chef Offers Specialty

ALASKA KING CRAB LEGS SAUTE

PREPARATION: Dip legs in flour. Saute in butter for one or two minutes.

Delicious Asparagus Recipe

Asparagus with Cheese Sauce and Bacon
Buttered Toast
Strawberry Roll Beverage

ASPARAGUS WITH CHEESE SAUCE AND BACON

- 2 tablespoons butter or margarine
- 2 tablespoons flour
- 1 cup milk
- Salt and Cayenne
- ½ up coarsely grated cheddar cheese (⅛ pound)
- ½ cup medium-grated cheddar cheese (⅛ pound)
- 2 pounds asparagus (cooked and hot)
- 8 slices bacon (crisply cooked and hot)

In a 1-quart saucepan over low heat melt the butter; stir in flour. Add milk and cook and stir constantly until thickened and bubbly. Add medium-grated cheese and stir off heat or over very low heat until melted; add salt and cayenne to taste. Arrange asparagus stalks on 4 luncheon plates; pour cheese sauce over stalks but not buds. Sprinkle coarsely grated cheese over sauce. Garnish with bacon. Serve at once. Makes 4 servings.

Guacamole Dip

Guacamole, a Mexican dish, is good as a salad or an hors d'oeuvres dip. Peel and mash 2 medium-size avocados until they're smooth. Beat in 1 tablespoon of fresh lemon juice, ½ teaspoon of salt, ¼ teaspoon of chili powder, 1 tablespoon of grated fresh onion and 2 tablespoons of finely chopped ripe tomato. Chill well. Serve with crisp crackers or toast fingers. Makes about 2 cups.

A Spicy Flavor Glaze Is Given Shoulder Butt

Smoked shoulder butt is one of the handiest of meat cuts. You can fit it into your menus in so many different ways. The smoky flavor of a shoulder butt creates good eating at any meal, from breakfast to the dinner table.

Explains a meat cookery expert, this pork cut may be sliced and panbroiled or broiled, roasted as a whole piece or cooked in liquid. It's a boneless cut that has been cured and smoked.

In this recipe, the shoulder butt is given a spicy flavor as it simmers in water with whole cloves, stick cinnamon, bay leaf, celery seed and sliced onion. Added appeal is gained by glazing the meat after it is cooked and heating it in the oven until the glaze is set. Your family is bound to be pleased.

SPICED SMOKED SHOULDER BUTT

- 2 to 4-pounds shoulder butt
- Water to cover
- 1 meduim onion, sliced
- 6 whole cloves
- 1 bay leaf
- 1 stick cinnamon
- ½ teaspoon celery seed
- ½ cup brown sugar
- 2 tablespoons flour
- 2 tablespoons vinegar

Cover meat with water. Add onion, cloves, bay leaf, cinnamon and celery seed. Cover tightly and cook slowly 2 hours or until meat is done. Remove from liquid. Place meat on rack in open roasting pan. Mix together brown sugar, flour and vinegar. Spread mixture on shoulder butt and bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 15 minutes or until glaze is set.

Boil In Jackets

Boil new potatoes in their jackets, starting them in a small amount of cold salted water. If you remove a center band of peel from each jacket before cooking, the potatoes will look attractive and be easy to peel when they are served.

The Competition

Feed the mind while you feed yourself is the newest notion in packaging. A maker of breakfast cereal is carrying feature stories, presented in newspaper format, on the back of its new package. Included: a weather report — calling for clear, blue skies, moderate temperature, warm wind from the south.

Ham Turnovers Have New Flavor

Ham Turnovers
Celery and Olives
Crackers with Sour Cream Onion Dip
Fresh Fruit Pound Cake

HAM TURNOVERS

- ¼ pound (1 stick) butter or margarine
- 4 ounces cream cheese
- ¼ cup grated Parmesan cheese
- 2 cups sifted flour
- Ham filling

Cream butter, cream cheese and Parmesan. Work in flour, about ½ cup at a time, with a spoon; chill in 2 flat portions. Roll out one portion at a time on prepared pastry cloth; cut each portion into 6 four-inch squares. Roll leavings from both sheets of dough to make 4 more squares. Put some ham filling over the center of each square; fold over so edges meet in a triangle; press edges together with fork tines. Bake on a cookie sheet in a hot (425 degree) oven until lightly browned — about 15 minutes. Serve hot. Makes 16.

Ham Filling: Grind ½ pound cooked ham and mix with ¼ cup heavy cream, ¼ cup milk, ⅛ teaspoon pepper, 1 teaspoon dry mustard and 2 tablespoons pickle relish. Use any leftover filling as a spread.

Germans Rank First As Sausage Eaters

NEW YORK (UPI) — The 6.5 billion hot dogs we eat in one year would reach the moon and back, then circle the world five times, says the American Meat Institute.

Even so, we're not the world's leading sausage eaters. The Germans eat more on a per capita basis, says the Visking Co., the nation's largest manufacturer of cellulose casings for sausages.

Favorite sausages in Germany include weisswurst, or white wurst, liverwurst, bratwurst—made of pork, and kassler liverwurst, made of pork and liverwurst. Most German sausages are made of veal or pork or a combination of these two, of tongue and ham, or liver, and seasoned with garlic, onions, pepper and olives.

American hot dogs generally are 60 per cent beef, 40 per cent pork, and spicy. Kosher hot dogs are all beef, and heavily seasoned with garlic.

English and Russian sausages are also beef or pork or a combination of the two. Italy and Heidelberg, Germany prefer pork. Viennese frankfurters, called debrizener, are colored bright red with paprika.

There's even a meatless sausage, sogoa, at the El Musky Bazaar in Cairo. Sogoa are made of rice, onions and herbs, stuffed into a casing, poached in beef stock, then grilled in hot oil.

According to the meat institute, sausages are among our most ancient foods. They were common in China and Babylon 4,000 years ago. They've been found in the burial mounds of ancient Ur, in the tombs of Egyptian pharaohs and in prehistoric cliff dwellings in the American southwest.

Greek sausage, oryae, wae the subject of a play by Epicharmus, and even the Spartans, whose name is synonymous with stern living and frugality, developed a special sausage that remains traditional for Christmas in modern Spain, Scotland and France.

The Spartans made a game of sausage eating, says the institute. They hung skewered sausages from club room ceilings and bit them off the way children bite apples on a string at Hallowe'en.

The meat institute says natural casings still are used widely, but they are less popular than man-made cellulose, fibrous or plastic casings, which are more uniform, flexible and easier to handle.

LOIN OF PORK makes a delicious meal for a barbecue when its marinated in a gourmet sauce then wrappend in quilted foil and roasted.

Pork-U-Pine Barbecue

Allow at least an hour to marinate this roast in a mixture of vinegar, oil, lemon juice, salt and pepper before cooking. Then line the firebox with quilted cooking foil which helps to reflect maximum heat and also keeps the barbecue pit neat and tidy.

PORK-U-PINE

- 3 to 3½ lb. pork loin roast, boneless
- ¼ cup vinegar
- 1 tablespoon salad oil
- 1 teaspoon lemon juice
- 1 teaspoon salt
- ¼ teaspoon pepper
- ½ cup pineapple juice
- 1 cup barbecue sauce
- 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
- Quilted Cooking Foil (broiling)

Secure roast firmly on barbecue grill rotisserie. As roast turns slowly, baste frequently with mixture of pineapple juice, barbecue sauce and Worcestershire. When roast is done to a golden brown, remove from rotisserie and place on warm platter. Arrange Clove-studded Pineapple Slices* on top of roast. Serves 4.

Streusel Sweet Bread Perfect With Coffee

Yeast-risen coffee-cake dough

- ½ cup flour (stir before spooning lightly into mixture)
- 2 tablespoons smooth light brown sugar
- ¼ teaspoon cinnamon
- 2 tablespoons butter or margarine

Place coffee-cake dough after first rising in a 9-inch square baking pan. Stir together the flour, sugar and cinnamon; cut in the butter just until crumbly; sprinkle over dough; let rise for second time and bake as usual. Remove from pan; cool on wire rack. Sprinkle topping with confectioners sugar if desired.

'CLOVE-STUDDED PINEAPPLE SLICES

Arrange 4 pineapple rings on cooking foil (broiling). Stud with cloves. Fold over foil to completely encase Pineapple. Place foil packet on coals about 30 minutes before meat cooking time is up.

Helen O'Brien Engaged To Wed Jerome C. Ives

Mr. and Mrs. John J. O'Brien of San Anselmo are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Helen Shireen, to Jerome Chapman Ives, also of San Anselmo.

The bride-elect was graduated from Sir Francis Drake High School, College of Marin and the Dental Nurse's College of California in San Francisco. She is employed as a dental assistant in San Rafael. Kathleen O'Brien, a student at Sir Francis Drake, is her sister. She is a past worthy advisor of the Tamalpais Assembly, Order of Rainbow for Girls.

The future bridegroom, son of Mrs. Louise Ives of San Anselmo and G. Jerome Ives of Los Angeles, was graduated from Drake High School and is a senior at the University of Nevada where his fraternity is Sigma Alpha Epsilon. Kristin Ives of San Anselmo is his sister.

The wedding will be an event of Sept. 2 at the First Presbyterian Church in San Anselmo.

San Rafael Home Of Newlyweds

Old St. Mary's Church in San Francisco was the setting for the wedding of Constance Hurd of San Francisco and Lawrence Murray Jr. of Greenbrae.

The bride is the daughter of Keneth E. Gerttula of Maitland, Fla., and parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Murray of Greenbrae.

The bride was graduated from Lowell High School in San Francisco and was formerly a fashion model.

The bridegroom was graduated from Marin Catholic High School and served with the U.S. Navy. Mary, Martin, Tomas, Kevin and Irma Murray of Greenbrae are his brothers and sisters.

The newlyweds will reside in San Rafael.

MARRIED in San Francisco's Old St. Mary's Church were Constance Hurd of San Francisco and Lawrence Murray Jr. of Greenbrae.

St. Patrick's Guild Head Enjoys All Of Decorating

St. Patrick's Guild of Larkspur has elected Mrs. Robert J. Smith president for the coming year. A Guild member since coming to Larkspur six years ago, she has served as first and second vice president, membership chairman, and and needle adding decorator touches to her home.

Besides her talents as homemaker and cook, she enjoys decorating of all kinds, whether it is a paper and wire creation for a luncheon table or a new window treatment for her daughter's room. With her family, she swims, water-skis, follows the Little League, and she is an avid bridge player.

Other officers elected for the coming year are Mrs. Roland Fulton, first vice president and program chairman; Mrs. Paul Giovannoni, second vice president and hospitality chairman; Mrs. Hugo Andreis, secretary; and Mrs. Robert Prowse, treasurer.

MRS. ROBERT SMITH

The new president's primary aim for the year will be to interest all Catholic women in the Corte Madera-Larkspur area in the activities of St. Patrick's Parish, especially those who have recently moved to the rapidly expanding sections of the parish.

Georgia Smith's husband is a San Francisco attorney and is a newly-elected councilman of Larkspur. With their four children, they live in Hillview Gardens, where Georgia spends her free time with paint brush

Snap Tape Quick

A new snap fastener tape consists of rustproof brass snaps on durable cotton tape that can attach as trim to skirts and blouses. The tape is available on reels of 12 yards, on flat plastic dispensers of 12 yards or in polyethylene bags of 18 inches.

Make Yourself A Belt By Using Easy-Do Kit

Now you can make yourself a non-slip belt without eyelets and prongs. The materials in a new belt kit make the seemingly magic feat possible and include ribbed—or corrugated—strips of plastic. You stitch one strip inside one end of the belt and the other outside the other end. Then you attach a buckle without prongs or tongues. When you slip one part of the belt through the buckle, its ribbed plastic grooves lock with the grooves on the other end.

MARIN'S SOCIAL WHIRL

Dr., Mrs. Young To Honor Their Future Daughter-In-Law

By FLORENCE DONNELLY

Dr. and Mrs. Earle Young of Ross are giving a cocktail party and buffet supper Saturday honoring their future daughter-in-law, Barbara Atwood. About a hundred friends have been invited. Barbara, whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Atwood of Vallejo, will become the bride of Earle Michael (Mike) Young Jr. Sept. 22 in Vallejo. After the wedding the young couple will reside in Marin County.

A LUNCHEON and miscellaneous bridal shower were given Saturday at Peacock Gap Golf and Country Club by Mrs. Ellis Levine honoring Carolyn Paul. The bride-to-be, called Cookie by her friends, will be married to Marino Guerra Aug. 26. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Julius Paul of Kentfield. Her fiance's parents are the senior Marino Guerras of Redwood City. Guests included Cookie's aunt, Mrs. Paul David, her cousin, Mrs. Ben Solomon both of Sacramento, Mrs. Louis Winston of Oakland, Mesdames Marino Guerra, Norman Ballantine, Joseph DeLucca, Sam Garcia, James Baker, Cookie's future sister-in-law, Miss Carol Guerra, and Miss Cecelia Ontiveros, all of Redwood City; Cookie's aunts Mesdames Ernest Siegal, Alex Paul, Eva Dossey and Miss Rose Paul, also Henrietta Abrams, all of San Francisco; Mesdames Julius Paul, Robert Gray, Samuel Levin, Sheldon Steckel, Elie Faure, Falco Fiaccadori, Harry Mendle, Harry Sachs, Norman Birse and Marion Sheehan of Marin County.

The wedding will take place at the new Temple Rodef Sholom on San Pedro Road, San Rafael, Aug. 26. Dominic's will be the locale of the wedding reception.

AT A SIMPLE CEREMONY Mrs. Thomas J. Bates (Diane Costigan) was married to William S. Sloan at Sacred Heart Church in Point Reyes Saturday. Rev. Richard Barron officiated. The couple will live in Sacramento, where the bridegroom, a missile engineer, is with Airjet. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sloan of Oak Manor, Fairfax. The new Mrs. Sloan is the daughter of Mrs. Radford Hall of Del Mesa and A. B. Costigan of San Rafael and granddaughter of Mrs. Harry J. Moore of Ross. By her marriage to Thomas J. Bates, who was accidentally killed, Diane has two children, Thomas J. Bates Jr., 5, and Jeffrey Bates, who is a year old.

HONEYMOONING in Hawaii are Mr. and Mrs. John Thomas De Paolo. Mrs. De Paolo was the widow of Comdr. James Willey USN ret. They lived in Bayside Acres. The newlyweds are staying at the Royal Hawaiian in Honolulu. They sailed to the islands aboard the Lurline and will reside in San Francisco after the honeymoon.

A PATIO PARTY was given by Mr. and Mrs. Angelo Infusino of Marinwood Saturday for their daughter, Rita, who had just graduated from San Rafael High School. Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. Peter Presta, Mr. and Mrs. Guido Brocchini, Mr. and Mrs. Felix Castellanos and Mrs. Frank Ricchio.

NEW RESIDENTS of Sausalito are Oliver and Leafy Smith, who have sold their home in Hill Haven, Tiburon, to Mr. and Mrs. John Huntington, Leafy, a former member of the board of freeholders, is active in the Cove Players.

FROM FLORIDA comes the news of the birth of the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arne Frisbee. He is stationed by the by the Air Force in Homestead, Fla. The baby has been named Lynn Robert. Grandparents of the baby are Mr. and Mrs. Lynn B. Frisbee of Belvedere and Mr. and Mrs. Rio Baker of San Francisco.

MR. AND MRS. EDWARD ADAMS with their two sons, Edward Jr. and William, have returned to Belvedere to live. They were residents there during the 1940's. Mr. and Mrs. Adams have bought a home on Bella Vista Ave. He is an executive of I. Magnin Co. The family has been living in Southern California and in the state of Washington. Edward Jr., who has just completed four years of service in the Air Force, will attend College of Marin. William, who is now in the Air Force, is stationed in Denver, Colo.

MR. AND MRS. TIMOTHY DELGER of Kent Woodlands have a new address. They have moved to a house they bought on Rock Road. Their other home on South Ridgewood was sold to the Wallace Hickmans, formerly of Ross.

Frances Fischer Will Be Bride In August Rite

Mrs. Dorothy E. Fischer of San Anselmo is announcing the engagement of her daughter, Frances Lou, to John Cyril Carey Jr., of New York City.

Frances was graduated from Sir Francis Drake High School, College of Marin and San Francisco State College. Her brother, Bill, will be a sophomore next year at College of Marin. The bride-elect has recently returned from a tour of Europe and has resided for the past year and a half in Long Island while being employed as a stewardess with United Air Lines.

The future benedict is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Cyril Carey of Peabody, Mass. He received his degree in engineering from Tufts University and is employed as an engineer with Ingersoll Rand Company in New York City.

FRANCES LOU FISCHER

The couple is planning an August 25th wedding in New York. They will honeymoon on Cape Cod and reside in New Jersey.

Be Businesslike

Teen-Age Behavior Patterns Improve With Better Homes

"My husband usually ignores our daughter," a mother writes. "But when he does notice her, he blows his stack. Our girl is 16. But is very pretty and has a nice figure. I bought a stylish but skimpy bathing suit for her this summer. It is only a little more daring than the suits her friends wear. But it does show a lot of her body. When my husband saw it he almost had a stroke. He said I was a poor mother to buy such a suit. He ordered the girl never to wear it again. I think he is just being nasty. What shall I do about that bathing suit?" Mrs. L.L.O.

Tell your girl not to wear it. She should obey her father. Open opposition will only make him worse. I'm sorry you bought a suit which shocked him. It would have been better if you had thought of his feelings in advance. He loves his daughter. He doesn't want to see her cheapened. I can understand how he feels.

Wait until he gets over his anger. Then arrange for him to talk with other fathers of 16-year-old girls. Choose those who are relatively tolerant and understanding. He may accept ideas from them which he would not accept from you. Human nature is flexible. Bathing suits, slacks, halters and sunsuits which would have caused riots 20 years ago now go unnoticed. The boys in your daughter's gang are less excited by scanty suits than your husband and his friends were at their age. But he doesn't know that. Be patient with him. Give him time to realize that standards have changed. It isn't easy to be the father of a teen-age girl.

READERS' FORUM

(Q) "Our boy is 2. He puts everything into his mouth and chews it. He masticates dirt, sand, ashes, weeds, stink bugs and sow bugs. When he explain that he shouldn't he nods understandingly. But in a day or so he forgets. Is something wrong with him?"

Mrs. F. W.

(A) No. Some little children do most of their exploring with their mouths. They haven't learned that sow bugs, for example, are nasty. You'll have to watch over your son every minute. You will need to teach him patiently that he can't pop everything into his mouth. Eventually he'll catch on.

Childbirth Class Instruction Set

The Education for Childbirth program will offer a series of class instruction in July. One class will be given from 8 to 9:30 p.m. starting July 11, and the other class will be given from 2 to 3:30 p.m. starting July 12.

Mrs. Gunhild H. Brown and Mrs. James V. Farley Jr., registered physical therapists, will be the instructors. The series of eight lessons will be held at the office of Mrs. Brown, 711 D Annex, San Rafael.

The course includes a group of exercises to help the expectant mother, through relaxation, posture training, and breathing techniques. Emphasis is given to the understanding of the processes of labor and childbirth. A parents' class is given where expectant fathers attend and films are shown. Doctor's written permission is required for enrollment, Mrs. Brown said.

History Says

Cavemen found June the most suitable month for acquiring a bride. Tradition says they had recovered from the rigors of winter and still had time to store food and furs before the next one. With time on their hands, they found the sunny month of June an ideal time to go forth ad capture a bride.

Valerie Ann Mooney Recites Vows At Ceremony In Hawaii

The United States Marine Corps Chapel at Camp H. M. Smith in Aiea, Honolulu, was the setting for the wedding of Valerie Ann Mooney of San Anselmo and Lt. Robert E. Klee of Tacoma, Wash., June 2.

The bride was graduated from Sir Francis Drake High School and attended College of Marin and the University of San Francisco. She is the sister of John, Elaine, and Frank Mooney and Mrs. Amos Stackhouse of Denver, Colo.

The bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ludwig Klee of Tacoma, was graduated from the U.S. Naval Academy at Annapolis and served with the Cincpac Commande at Pearl Harbor.

No Moving Parts

A refrigerartor that chills but has no moving parts, compressor or refrigerant fluid soon will be available nationally. The refrigerartor utilizes thermoelectric cooling, the temperature change occurring at the junction of two dissimilar metals when a direct current is passed through them. About one-third the size of a 12-foot conventional refrigerator, the new unit provides space for a week-end supply of food. The steel cabinet is housed in a walnut grained vinyl sheath about 30 inches high.

Carolyn Caletti Is Wed At Fairfax Rite

St. Rita's Church in Fairfax was the setting for the June 16 wedding of Carolyn Camile Caletti of Fairfax and Ernest Leroy Harper of Washington D.C.

Curtis Noah of San Bruno was best man and ushering was William Hayeax Jr. of Seattle.

The bride was graduated from Sir Francis Drake High School and the Dental Nursing College in San Francisco.

She is a member of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority. Paul Caletti of Manor is her brother. She is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albertro Caletti of San Anselmo and the late Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Linggi of Fairfax.

The bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Harper of Gig Harbor, Wash., was graduated from the University of Texas and is employed with the General Service Administration of the Federal Government. Penny Harper of Gig Harbor and Mrs. Robert Whitley of Portland, Tex., are his sisters. He is the grandson of Mrs. Alma Preston of Gig Harbor and Mrs. Almeda Conner of Chicago.

Camping Sessions Filling For Scouts' Treasure Mountain

Mrs. Lyman Emerson, director of Girl Scout Treasure Mountain Camp at Sierraville, announced that all sessions are filled except for a limited number of reservations still available for the first session, July 9, to July 21. First session is open to Scouts and non-Scouts entering the 5th to 12th grades in September.

A complete primitive camping program will be followed, stressing an "Americana" theme. Information for the July 9 session can be obtained from the Girl Scout office at Arequipa, P. O. Box, Fairfax, Mrs. Emerson said.

Now from Scott Paper Company—Confidets ...the new shape in sanitary protection

1. Only true anatomical shape. Confidets® are the only sanitary napkin fully tapered and shaped to fit body contours. Wide in front for protection —narrow in back for comfort—don't bunch or bulge. Confidets can be worn with any standard belt.

2. Only one with proportioned depth for more protection. No other napkin has extra thickness in middle where greatest absorbency is needed. Protects like a super pad with less bulkiness than a junior size.

3. Only accident-proof inner shield that's full size and securely held in position. Moisture simply cannot penetrate this feather-light shield, so under part of Confidets stays dry, soft.

4. Only multi-layer filler with this unique arrangement. It holds 8 times its weight in moisture as proved by laboratory tests. The pure, fine quality materials absorb at maximum speed. You're blissfully secure with Confidets!

5. Exclusive ultra soft-strength cover. Only Confidets has a cover so comfortably soft against the skin yet has so much flexible strength in use. Try Confidets—developed and patented by Scott Paper Company.

How About Planting Trees Around New Nicasio Lake?

Any weekend driver who swings past new Nicasio Lake, Marin Municipal Water District's new West Marin reservoir, can't help but notice the number of fishermen taking advantage of the new waters. (We don't know whether they are catching anything.)

But now the cows are kept in their own fields and the lakeshores, and particularly the large central island, could be made a beautiful recreation area if there were some trees.

Who will plant the trees and where will they come from?

We'll wager that acquiring the trees would be easy and inexpensive. Either the state forester or the state agricultural college at Davis or both have trees, we believe, which may be available for such a project, perhaps only for the cost of transporting them down here.

But who would plant them? Certainly we don't want the water district to spend its money for this.

How about the conservation clubs? How about the Boy Scouts and the Girl Scouts? How about other organizations with similar interests?

We'll bet that if some organization, say the Marin Conservation League, would take the lead in planning such a beautification project, that the Scouts and many other groups would unite in one big planting session. We'll bet that hundreds of folks would be willing to help in a one-day, coordinated plantfest.

We don't expect that this would happen this season. Certainly now is not the time to plant trees. But now is the time to start making plans for such a venture. Now is the time to make preliminary contacts on acquiring the trees on deciding the proper time to plant, on making agreements with other organizations.

In short, let's get the ball rolling NOW and worry about the planting details later.

Summer Lassitude

It's a warm June day in Marin. Even the birds are silent and the dogs heave long sighs and seek the shade.

The solitary call of a father quail breaks the woodland silence. The bees are at the roses and the hummingbirds are flashing and pausing among the fuchsias.

THREE MINUTES A DAY

By JAMES KELLER

LONDON TO NEW YORK IN 3 HOURS

In 1970 you may be able to zoom by supersonic airliner from London to New York in three hours.

The more speed we bring into our lives, the greater our responsibility to meet the many complex problems that an extraordinarily accelerated tempo forces on all of us.

To dilly-dally in keeping pace with the fantastic developments of our scientific age or to fail to apply moral principles to a speedily changing world is to flirt with catastrophe.

While recognizing the numerous advantages of speed, do your part to see that it always serves man and never subjugates him.

God wishes you to be the master of every man-made contrivance, not its slave or victim.

"They indeed run to receive a perishable crown, but we an imperishable one. I, therefore, so run as not without a purpose." (1 Corinthians 9:25-26)

Keep me, O Holy Spirit, ever in control of my own haste.

Fat People Must Bear Some Pretty Heavy Verbal Crosses

"Hi, Skinny!"

"Did you ever hear that inside every fat man there's a thin man trying to get out?"

"I'd watch that weight if I were you, old boy."

"George, would you mind trying this chair? That one you're sitting in is an antique, and—"

"I used to have that problem myself. Then I started eating six prunes for breakfast, a dried apple for lunch, and—"

"All you need is a little more regular exercise. Why don't you start by pushing yourself away from the table three times a day?"

"Grace hates revolving doors ever since she got stuck in one at that department store, and they had to call out the fire department to pry her loose."

"They say his wife has to tie his shoelaces for him every morning."

"How many years has it been since you were able to see your toes, George?"

"You know how I did it? A piece of rye toast for breakfast, a hard-boiled egg for lunch, and—"

"Hi, Fatso!"

"I KNOW HOW we can close the trunk. Ask George to sit on it."

"They can kid you all they like George. I still think you are a fine body of men."

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

In today's paper (June 20) I see with undisguised pleasure, that Dave Beck is to serve a five year prison term. It's about time and my only regret is that he is to serve it for what is one of the most minor offenses that this man committed!

Now, partisan politics aside, when are we, the people, not party members, going to back our government in getting Beck's successor, James Hoffa, into the next cell?

This man is even rumored as a possible future candidate for political office! Do we, as citizens, claim that this is the government's business (which it is) to rid us of Hoffa and the other dirt in unions, whilst we continue to indifferently support these very unions anyway? Or is it our duty, as citizens, believing "what can I do for America," to not only back our attorney general, Robert Kennedy, but (as is our right) to refuse to deal with unions that are crooked.

It is our duty to organize! To say, "Ed is a nice guy and he works for the Teamsters and I couldn't refuse him" is to negate our moral obligation to our country. For "Ed," and the millions like him, who sacrifice the duty to clean up their unions because "Hoffa gets the best money for us," is to not only sell their American heritage for a "lousy buck" (and the buck is only the symbol of our enemies, not the truth of the American faith) but to be hypocritical . . .

There is no second best for America. If there was, Russia would do! . . .

Let's stop sneering and saying "Russia has got the government it deserves," and start seeing that WE have the government we SHOULD deserve IF we did something for America . . .

Boardwalk Auto Controversy Again

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Regarding the so-called parking problem at Henry Clay Hall School, I feel certain points need to be clarified.

In 1958, the school was built, including parking facilities and circular driveway entrance. The driveway entrance was contructed partly off school property and overlapped a public easment, the entrance to Boardwalk homes.

Other development next to the school eliminated the previous Boardwalk parking area, so these homeowners found it convenient to park on school property. This brought on a parking conflict during school activities and school hours.

The school board then invoked a vehicle code provision making the school road subject to parking regulations, enforceable by local police. The Larkspur police started enforcing the new regulation; first with warnings, then with citations.

This should have resolved the problem. But the portion of the road overlapping the public easement is not subject to school parking regulation; therefore, police cannot legally cite cars in the easement. This area can accomodate one or two cars, and extends diagonally across the entrance driveway.

Dr. Seidel has viewed this as school road and repeatedly demanded that police cite cars parked on the easement. On Feb. 6, at approximately 1 a.m., I personally accompanied Dr. Seidel to view a so-called violation. He had contacted police several times earlier that night and was told that a citation legally could not be issued.

If it is this attention to detail that the writer of a June 12 letter wanted to commend, I disagree. If the doctor was not satisfied with the way police were handling the matter, he should have taken it to his superiors, the school board, and not have conducted several months' private harangue of the police. Am sure the school board could have intelligently settled the matter.

In this day of the big rush to colleges, too many forget that a very important part of our population does not go to college, but with training such as this, they are going to contribute every bit as much to this country as those who do.

Familiar Soviet Tactic Of Walkout Altered Only Slightly At Geneva

WASHINGTON — It has long been a familiar tactic of the Soviet Union to walk out of diplomatic conferences when it can't have its way. They are inveterate walker-outers. It is an instrument of Kremlin diplomacy.

The latest tactic is a little different, but to the same effect. This time ,in the closing moments of the Geneva disarmament conference before a four-week recess — which most of the delegates hoped could be a short breather before more productive negotiations—the Soviet representative, Zorin, gathered into one big ball of wax all of the accusations he had been leveling at the West (bad faith, bad motives, bad intentions) and hurled it at the United States, so that adjournment could only come on a crashingly discordant note.

It did.

THE CANADIAN and British delegates deplored Zorin's tirade as "irresponsibile and intemperate" and reported that the spokesmen for the eight unaligned countries with whom they talked shared this opinion of the Zorin antics.

This unhappy climax to the Geneva talks comes in the wake of the welcome news from Laos where the Western powers and the Soviet Union have finally devised the makings of a coalition government designed to create a neutral independent nation.

At once Premier Khrushchev hailed the agreement as an encouraging pattern for resolving other East-West tensions.

THAT MIGHT be fine, but Zorin makes it depressingly clear that while the Soviets will accept a "coalition" government in Laos, they will not accept a "coalition" inspection machinery to supervise arms control.

The disarmament inspection commission we have been urging would be made up of neutral, Communist, and Western representations, as in Laos, but Zorin says no, that any idea of including neutrals and Western representatives on inspection teams on Soviet territory is proof of "bad faith."

Secretary of State Rusk was not too blunt when he said recently that the failure to make any headway toward disarmament rests squarely on the Soviet Union's unwillingness to accept any workable system of inspection.

"Only one break-through is required," he explained. "The Soviet Union must realize that it cannot eat the cake of disarmament and have the cake of secrecy . . . It is our hope that the Soviets will come to realize that secrecy is a dangerous anachronism in a nuclear age."

THIS HOPE WAS made pretty dim by another of Zorin's cute gambits at the Geneva talks. He tried—and fortunately was unsuccessful — to get the disarmament conference secretariat to destroy its records showing his government's acceptance of a provision banning "war propaganda."

Obviously Zorin had the right to renege on his acceptance of the "war propaganda" agreement, but the conference could hardly give him the right to erase the record so he could pretend he never agreed.

Anyway, he tried.

Harold Ross, founder of the New Yorker magazine, received a letter one morning from a famous short story writer. Engraved on the letter head were not only the author's name and address but laudatory quotes from summaries of the writer's work. Ross stewed about this for a week, then had some letterheads of his own printed just so he could answer the famous short story writer in similar style. Ross had HIS name and address engraved on each sheet, plus these two quoted tributes to himself: 1. "A splendid fellow"—Alexander Woollcott. 2. "Among those present was Harold Ross"—Account of a murder trial in the New York Journal.

I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

By RANDALL GOULD

After Watching The Work, It's Easy To Have Confidence In Workers

In line with Gould-supervisors policy of each trying to keep the other guessing, let me make this declaration:

After two long weary weeks of budget talk, mainly without presence of any of those Marin County taxpayers who before long will be upbraiding and lamenting costs of government—let me say that I for one, who suffered with and because of our supervisors, now think well of their work.

The point now reached is only a stage of preliminary decisions. Changes will be made. There will be whittling, and some items must be added.

BUT ON THE WHOLE the job has been workmanlike, a hard, honest try that should stand up well in the stage of final budget. Our allegedly "part-time" supervisors have really worked, sometimes at cross - purposes yet to good conclusions.

Of course, I don't agree with everything they've done. Neither do they. They are thoroughly human, far from self-righteous.

They and those with whom they work have just passed several milestones. For example, there was the pleasant session enjoyed by Probation Chief Walter Busher, dedicated, but whose board communications haven't always been in first class order.

When Bill Fusselman said Busher had finally got himself "out of boot camp" he said much in little. That same remark applies even more forcefully to the happy outcome of the nearly tragic situation of Administrator Alan Bruce, whose office and person came to unanimous endorsement.

My pessimism was flung back into my face. Please pass the cold boiled crow!

NOT FOR THE FIRST time I saw how country storekeeper George Ludy can speak out unexpectedly with courage and statesmanship. In this case he admitted past doubts, but said in effect—the administrator form of government is what Marin County has, let's face it and give it a chance.

Bill Gnoss's immediate second was no mere "me too," for he spoke with conviction and sincerity.

Bill's love for his native Novato tickles me. Once there was a monarch named Oedipus Rex who had a few minor shortcomings but you had to admit he loved his mother. Bill loves Novato, and his country constituents too.

Chortling Walter Castro is irresistable. But though he seems a simple man of the people, he keeps one guessing. His good humor has no end and as chairman of our Marin County supervisors, anybody needs plenty.

Fusselman has found that out by being chairman twice. Though deemed choleric and sometimes seeming to glory in being the board's Bad Humor Man, he's considerable of a fraud. He can be diplomatic and he's a born showman. In the midst of playing the seething volcano, he usually has a chuckle hid.

SO FAR AS I'M concerned it would be footless, tasteless reporting to give much space to the occasional "Fusselman vs. Behr" fusses. They often remind me of pro wrestling, a lot of banging and hollering with nobody hurt. Behr doesn't hate Fusselman nor t'other way round. In particular, Behr has real respect for Fusselman's record, knowledge and sincerity.

Behr is sharp and no doubt headed for beyond Marin County. Like Bruce he has his personal faults making for occasional disadvantage in dealing with the other four supervisors. As Bruce tends to talk too fast, Behr's speech is intricate and requires full hearing with careful attention. We're all learning.

AN ODD FACT is that Behr and Fusselman are essentially similar in several ways. I'm reminded of a recent woman guest in my home. She considers herself a Socialist. Wife Agnes considers herself a Republican. Both want life to be better, one through communal effort and the other by rugged individualism.

To me, Fusselman and Behr compete in stirring supervisorial consciences. This sounds sort of stuffy, but I believe I have a point worth thinking over.

What the final Marin County tax rate is going to be, hanged if I know. What I say is that after watching the work, I have increased confidence in the workers. And the Goulds are going to pay their county taxes without a grumble.

South ruffed the second heart, led a trump to dummy and ruffed another heart. He continued with a second trump to dummy and then led a low diamond toward his hand.

WICKEDNESS

....South wasn't actually looking for any wickedness. He planned to take the ace of diamonds and return the ten of diamonds in the hope of winning a trick with dummy's queen.

If West had the king of diamonds, dummy's queen would become a trick; otherwise, South would have to rely on a 3-2 break in clubs.

It was at this moment that East became self-conscious and felt the burden of his diamond strength.

FEARFUL

East got just what he deserved for this fearful play. South won with the ace of diamonds and returned the ten.

East had to take the king of diamonds, and dummy's queen was good for a club discard. South could easily reach dummy with a trump, and the contract was home despite the bad club break.

By entering dummy with a trump and leading the first diamond from dummy, South gave the impression that he intended to finesse through East.

He actually had no such intention, but was glad to change his mind when East gave himself away.

MARIN BUSINESS And INDUSTRY

Marin Trio Discusses Possible Million-Dollar Shopping Center

The possibility of developing a $1,000,000 shopping center—all under one roof — is being discussed by Carlisle Rickards Jr., William M. Davis and Ernest Beckstrom. The center would be located in the former H. C. Little Burner Co. manufacturing plant on Woodland Avenue near Du Bois Street, San Rafael.

Rickards, Davis and Beckstrom, principals in the Woodland Development Co., who purchased the five-acre property last March now feel its best usage may be "something better than straight industrial."

The main building of some 47,000 square feet—well over an acre—was recently raised two feet on a new foundation, exterior walls were plastered, roof was repaired and a six-inch concrete floor was laid—all with the idea of attracting one or more large industries to occupy it. Most of the surrounding ground was also filled to well above flood level.

IF PLANS GO forward as contemplated, Rickards said, the structure will house a complete marketing center on the order of the old Crystal Palace Market in San Francisco. It would be devoted to groceries, produce, poultry, meats, seafoods, food specialties, drugs, hardware, housewares, flowers and other merchandise sold by individual retailers.

The possibility exists that the entire building may be leased outright to a single individual for the development—otherwise the San Rafael trio will undertake it themselves.

Rickards noted that there are more than two acres of parking space—an inducement for shoppers to come from beyond the immediate neighborhood. Space rental would be much less than in the usual shopping center he said, enabling merchandisers to pass along the difference in lower prices.

"If people know they can find room to park and do most of their shopping in one place we believe they'll come from miles around," he commented, "even though it may not be as 'finished' as a supermarket."

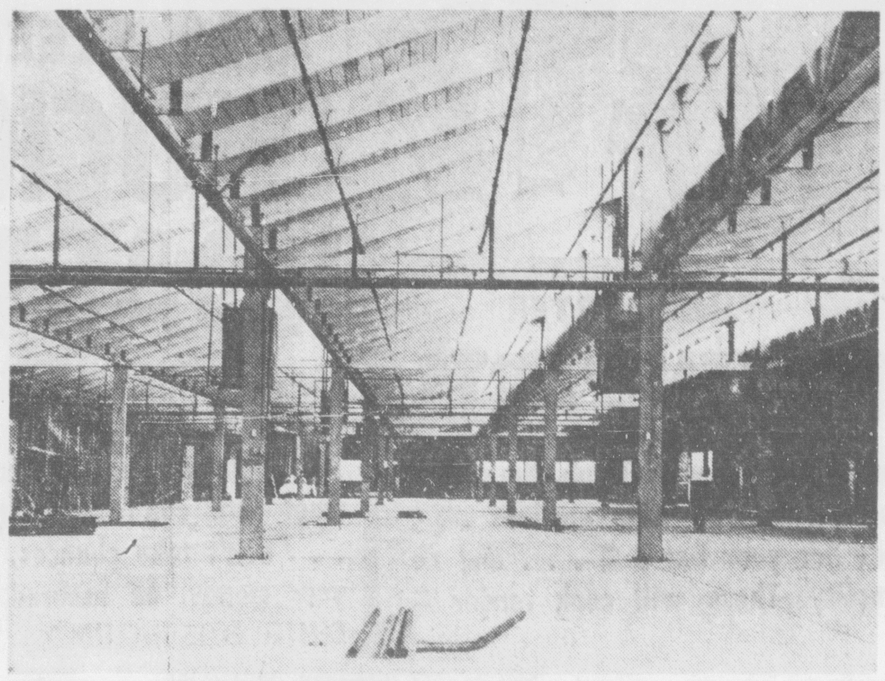
He said the project had been discussed with a number of local merchants and several were interested. The development may be known as the Woodland Shopping Center.

FIVE COUNTIES in Northern California that run very close in deed recordings each month are Marin, Sonoma, Monterey, San Joaquin and Santa Cruz. The first four are almost equal—in the 800s; Santa Cruz County tags a little behind.

Total number of real estate loans is also parallel—with Marin generally in the lead and Santa Cruz somewhat short.

But Marin averages far larger loans—$19,000 to $20,000 each; Monterey $14,000 to $15,000; Sonoma and San Joaquin $12,000 to $13,000 and Santa Cruz $11,000 to $12,000.

Marin County is heaviest in loans made through savings and loan companies; San Joaquin County in bank and individual loans; Santa Cruz County highest in individual loans. Insurance and mortgage company loans are comparatively low in all five counties. Insurance loans are practically nonexistent in Santa Cruz County and mortgage company loans only scattered.



FUTURE SHOPPING CENTER — This vacant factory building at Woodland Avenue and Du Bois Street, San Rafael, once occupied by the H. C. Little Burner Co., is being considered for a complete "under one roof" market area. It covers more than an acre of ground and has an adjoining two acres of parking space.

Novato Girl Wins University Scholarship

Susan Rose Obee of Novato has been awarded a freshman scholarship to Stanford University as winner in a competition sponsored by Oroweat Baking Co. of San Francisco.

Parents Want Transportation For Students

Parents of seventh and eighth grade youngsters who live in San Rafael but attend Vallecito School in the Dixie District want bus transportation for their children to the school.

Their request is to be considered by the Dixie School District board at its meeting at 8 p.m. today in the library of Bernard Hoffman School.

Also on the agenda is review of the tentative budget which was approved previously.

The board will decide whether to award a contract for an addition to Vallecito School or throw out all the bids, which are in excess of the estimate, said Supt. Dennis B. Willis.

Town To Restore Its Colonial Look

NIAGARA-ON-THE-LAKE, Ont. (AP)—Several groups in this town at the mouth of the Niagara River on Lake Ontario want to restore certain areas to their 18th and 19th Century appearance.

The town, burned by Americans during the War of 1812, was rebuilt. Many of its existing structures date from the early 19th Century and others pre-date the 1813 attack.

All buildings in town are being surveyed and details of their history are being gathered. Niagara-on-the-Lake is considered to have some of the finest colonial architecture to be seen in Canada.

Digit Dialing To Be Discussed On Radio Panel

"Digit dialing — good or bad?" will be discussed on radio KTIM's "Marin Sounding Board" from 9 to 10 a.m. tomorrow.

Participants will be Douglas Horton, district commercial manager of Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co.; William Fleager, the company's general traffic manager; San Rafael Mayor John F. McInnis, and attorney John G. Buresh.

Kitty Oppenheimer will moderate, and will direct questions phoned by listeners (who must dial all numbers, 456-1510, to get the radio station) to the panel members. The program will be recorded for rebroadcast Sunday at 12:30 p.m.

Retirement Party Set For State Engineer

A retirement party for Burnell Van Dalsem of 1 Belle Avenue, San Rafael, who has worked for the State of California 34 years, will be held at the New Tivoli, San Francisco, July 27 at 7 p.m.

July Booked Solid With Fun Events

Starting with the Napa County Fair at Calistoga, July 1 through 4, there's hardly a weekend without some major event in the nine counties from San Francisco to Grants Pass.

As the Julian Month opens, Lakeport stages its annual "hot-boat" and water-ski races and Fourth of July night-boat parade; Willits has a Frontier Days festival (3rd and 4th), and the San Francisco Giants play eight days of baseball, winding up with the Dodgers at Candlestick Park in four "crucials."

There's the Marin Art and Garden Fair, July 3-7; the Monte Rio Water Carnival, July 4-8; and the Sonoma-Marin Fair at Petaluma, July 12-15 and the Oregon Appaloosa Horse Show at Grants Pass (21st-22nd).

Garberville has a rodeo July 14-15; the Sonoma County Fair (pari-mutual racing) reigns in Santa Rosa from the 18th through the 28th; and Arcata offers its colorful Lumberman's Jubilee, July 21-22.

Fortuna's 33rd annual rodeo runs July 28-29, and the Empire's busy month ends with the eighth annual Pacific Coast boat-and-ski races at Lakeport on the same days.

Budget Talks Due For Corte Madera

The Corte Madera Town Council's first meeting to discuss the proposed budget of $428,832 for fiscal 1962, down $3,006 from this year, will be held at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow in the town hall.

The budget, prepared by Arthur H. Brandow, town manager-engineer, proposes the same total tax rate as this year—$1—but on a somewhat different arrangement.

Current town government tax rate is 76 cents, with 16-cent park tax rate, 4-cent flood control rate, 3-cent recreation rate and 5 cents for bond interest and redemption. New proposed rates are 73 cents, plus 16, five and six cents for the other taxes.

Latest Bon Air apartment building to be completed at 61 Via Belardo, Greenbrae, included both an exterior stairway and inside elevator in its construction. Three-story multiple dwellings in the area are now being planned with the dual service.

Psychosomatics Now Subtle

By DELOS SMITH

NEW YORK (UPI)—Aneurologist warns other physicians that people are becoming more choosy in their psychosomatics which makes it more likely they can throw the doctor for a loss when he tries to decide precisely what it is that ails them.

It used to be psychosomatics came in crude forms. There would be a lack of sensitivity to pin-pricks and heat. Or the physician would be confronted by fits of blindness or inability to speak. There might be a paralysis of limb or limbs.

But now "hysterical disease tends to assume subtler forms, especially among educated people," said Dr. Bernard H. Smith of Univesrity of Buffalo (N.Y.). Now it centers on such things as dizziness, blurred vision and weaknesses.

Psychosomatic disease is no less a disease than one with a true physical basis. It makes the victim no less ill and may in some instances kill him. The victim doesn't know it is psychosomatic. He thinks it is truly organic rather than something he is doing to himself unconsciously.

As a neurological expert Smith was warning other medical men of "pitfalls" in the technical journal, Postgraduate Medicine. These pitfalls are "in mistaking organic for psychogenic disease and vice versa."

Many physicians don't want to accept psychological origin of physcial sickness. They are loath to label a patient neurotic and so the patient "may be subjected unnecessarily to many tests and surgical procedures, even potentially dangerous ones," Smith said.

Smoth laid down rules for making certain a disease state is functional rather than organic:

First, the symptoms have to be of a kind that could be functional; second, there must be no relevant organic signs, third, connections between the mind and bodily functions must be shown. And finally, the symptoms must be curable by psychological means.

"However, absolute certainty is seldom possible in the field of psychologic any more than it is in organic medicine and usually we have to be content with strong possibility rather than certainty," he continued.

The possibilities of collecting compensation have led to psychomatic disorders being given such organic labels as "whiplash injury," concussion syndromes and neuralgia, he said.

On the other hand, Parkinson's disease and multiple solerosis, both wholly organic in origin, can be mislabeled in mild, early stages as psychosomatic and functional.

"It is a good rule that if any apparently hysterical complaint arises in adult life in a patient of previously good personality. The likelihood of underlying organic disease of the nervous system is strong," Smith said.

Cars Never Were Problem To Him

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP)—An attorney questioning prospective jurors for a negligence trial involving a motorcycle was seeking to insure against a prejudiced jury. He drew from an elderly, white-haired gentleman the concession that yes, he had once owned a motorcycle.

"When was that?" asked the attorney.

"About 50 years ago," said the elderly gentleman.

"Now, then," said the attorney. "Did you ever have the feeling, when you were driving your motorcycle, that all the automobiles were ganging up on you?"

"What automobiles?"

Franco-Japanese Film Tomorrow At Center

A special showing of the Franco-Japanese film "Hiroshima, Mon Amour" will be given at 8:30 p.m. tomorrow at the Marin Jewish Community Center, 1618 Mission Avenue, San Rafael.

The film is in French with English sub-titles. Proceeds from the showing will go to the scholarship fund of Camp Rafa-El, said Kurt Rosenthal, chairman of the center's special events committee.

23 Strep Cases Found In County

Twenty-three cases of streptococcic infections were reported to the Marin County Health Department last week.

The "strep" infections easily led the parade of new disease cases as announced today by Dr. Carolyn B. Albrecht, county health officer. They were widely spread, with Mill Valley having the most — seven cases.

Twelve new cases of measles were reported, two cases of tuberculosis, and one case each of mumps and gonorrhea.

Meetings Changed

Directors of the Marin County Assn. of Fire Departments have changed their meeting from 8 p.m. the fourth Friday to 10 a.m. on the second Wednesday of each month. The meeting place changes with each meeting.

Tamalpais Ride Will Draw Many

Horsemen will come from as far away as Nevada and Southern California for the Mount Tamalpais trail ride July 6-8, which begins at Mill Valley's Project 17.

Judges for the ride were announced today by Thea Hogan, secretary of the North American Trail Ride Conference, which is sanctioning the 35-mile endurance test. They are Dr. Murray Fowler, head of the department of veterinary medicine at University of California at Davis, and George Cardinet of Martinez. Cardinet is one of the founders of North American Trail Ride Conference.

Riders will assemble the evening of July 6 at Project 17, begin their ride early next morning. Awards will be made in three divisions, heavyweight, lightweight and junior. Trophies for horsemanship in senior and junior division will be presented and highest placing horse in any division will win the sweepstakes trophy.

Further information may be obtained from Joseph C. Brewster of Mill Valley, general chairman of the ride, or Thea Hogan, P.O. Box 169, Mill Valley.

Youth Employment Boom Is Expected

SACRAMENTO (UPI)— The State Department of Employment is guessing in advance that Califronia employers will hire youngsters this summer.

Says Director Irving H. Perluss:

"Last year the Department placed a total of 40,247 youths under 20 years of age in jobs in June, July and August. It's too early for comparable 1962 statistics but youth employment needs have been widely publicized . . . and I'm sure this year's youth placement figures will be equally gratifying."

Lions Melodrama Tryouts Slated

Tryouts for singers and dancers for an oldtime melodrama sponsored by the Corte Madera Lions Club and the Marin Theater Institute will be held Monday and Tuesday at 8 p.m. in the institute at 912 E Street, San Rafael.

The melodrama, "The Rebel's Revenge or Chicanery on the Chattahoochee," will be presented Friday and Saturday nights at the Corte Madera Recreation Center during August.

THE LOG JAM IS BREAKING

Except for the patience and understanding of so many of our customers who have fought the battle of getting into our service department, we are certain Tom Hillister, Augie Bellas and Leonard Michal would be sporting form-fitting strait jackets.

But, as you who have read these words know by now, we have a great fondness for the people of Marin, and these good people have borne our problems with a loyalty that is most appreciated. To brave the traffic jam around Ames Ford is an acid test, and we are properly grateful for the many thousands who have accepted the challenge and endured the annoyance with so little grumbling.

Our day of liberation is fast approaching. A modern, fully equipped service and parts facility, with ACRES of parking and an extensive off street approach area has been purchased and will be ready for operation within 60 days. And, joyfully, it is located just around the corner at 619 Francisco Blvd.

You good people will now understand and pardon the antics of our service men at Ames Ford who find it difficult to restrain their exuberance at the thought of the approaching end to their congested nightmare. If one dances the jig as he approaches you, please smile indulgently.

Considerable concentration is required to make the transition to a split operation smooth and successful. Being a labor of love this concentration will be almost all-consuming. Plans for physical layout will be guided primarily by an underlying thought of customer convenience and acceptance.

Quick-service, without appointment, while-you-wait, will be an important feature of our new operation at Ames Ford. We'll try earnestly to repay the patience of our customers and deserve their continued loyalty.

Retired Deputies Will He Hosted

Two sheriff's deputies, who have retired because of physical disabilities, will be honored at a retirement dinner at Rancho Nicasio next Tuesday night.

The Marin County Deputy Sheriff's Assn., headed by Dennis Shine, is sponsoring the dinner for Deputies John J. Canziani and George Congdon. Canziani was a bailiff in the courts, and Congdon was a desk officer in the San Rafael office.

Inspector Guido Battaglia, member of the arrangement committee, announced that a no-host cocktail hour will begin at 6:30 p.m., followed by dinner at 7:30. Dancing will continue until 1 a.m.

Tickets are being circulated by Inspectors Battaglia, Harold V. Sleezer and Carl Sears; Lt. Sidney Stinson, and Deputies Edward McKamey and Kenneth Irving.

California is the leading crop producing state in the nation and second only to Iowa in the livestock industry.

Girls In Swim Course

Diane Ross of 41 Maple Road, Woodacre, and Carol Ann Finn of 173 Bolinas Road, Fairfax, are participating in a 10-day water safety course sponsored by the American Red Cross at Camp Tulequoia on Lake Sequoia. They are enrolled at the school on scholarships provided by the Marin chapter.

Tenth British Royal Heir Born

IVER, England (UPI) — The 29-year-old Duchess of Kent gave birth yesterday to a son who becomes 10th in nie to the British throne.

The baby, who weighed six pounds four ounces, arrived a few days earlier than expected.

Nehru Begins To Show Age —And Listen To Doctors

Following a bout of kidney trouble in April. The prime minister has slowed down. For the first time in his life, he is beginning to listen to his doctors.

Outwardly, Nehru looks little different than he did five years ago. His weight is about the same. His sense of humor and quick temper are still evident. The symbols are consistent: snow white long coat over jodphur-like trousers, white cotton cap and a red rose peeping from a buttonhole.

But the spring in Nehru's step has slackened and his voice is quieter, lacking the forceful tone of last year. After attending the prime minister's news conference on June 13, the Times of India's New Delhi editor wrote: "One got the impression of a man who is rather tired or still not fully recovered from the effect of an illness."

Another reporter, writing in the Indian Express, said, "His recent illness seems to have resulted in one good: he is now more careful about himself; people around him sense a deliberate attempt by him to be agile.

"For once he seems to be obeying the doctors' advice. He goes home regularly for lunch and has his dinner at 8:30 p.m. He was never a stickler for food; now the vegetarian content of his diet has been increased.

He has a brief medical check after dinner every day, and, the best news of all, he goes to bed at 11—quite early for a man to whom working until 2:30 had become almost a routine."

Besides going to bed earlier, Nehru has stopped being India's official "opener." Formerly he presided over what seemed to be every inaugural event in the country. This included ceremonies initiating or completing roads, bridges, dams, factories and all manner of conferences. He also sees less people and speaks less in parliament.

Despite the slow down. The prime minister seems determined not to name his successor Repeated questions at his last news conference about the next prime minister were turned aside.

One reporter said bluntly, "(Mahatma) Gandi called you a jewel among men. You have not called anyone a jewel."

Instead of casting a pearl, Nehru, smiling, said, "You see those are extravagant descriptions. They were all right, if I may say so, at the time of constant conflict with the government, the British government of the day. It is another atmosphere, another thing in which we function."

The prime minister was at his liveliest during questioning about his future. He observed twice that the old question of "after Nehru who?" was outdated.

"Now the question is why shouldn't Nehru take the great decision and retire and leave because the question who after Nehru does not arise."

"I just said that the question 'after Nehru who,' is completely out of date because they have given up hope of waiting till after Nehru. So a quicker change is desired."

U.S. Could Take Some Pointers From France

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—You can live within your means while going further into debt to build up your economic muscle. At least, some European countries, notably France, appear to be doing it. The secret is keeping two sets of books.

Some of his advisers urge that old-fashioned ideas like balancing the formal budget be tossed into the ashcan as meaningless in the new economic age they glimpse. Financial leaders, business executives, and many run-of-the-mill taxpayers are sure to brand this as heresy, as a step toward fiscal disaster.

The President says the important thing isn't achieving a balance every year in the formal budget, which he terms misleading in its present form, but assuring economic growth for full employment.

His budget director, David E. Bell, suggests one method, which he admits may be too far out for adoption: "Making budget decisions not in terms of the actual revenue outlook for the next year, but instead in terms of what the budget will look like in a year of full employment."

Both the President and the budget head take note of the European practice of having two budgets. One balances current operating expenses with tax collections to the apparent satisfaction of European legislatures. The other meets the costs of government loans, subsidies and public works by borrowing, without the naughty word "deficiti" ever being so much as breathed.

If France kept its books as the U.S. Treasury does its administrative budget, France would have shown a deficit in each of the last 10 years.

This is the difference in the U.S. and French systems:

Thet U.S. Treasury usually borrows from the banks to meet its deficits, and thus creates a bigger supply of money and credit, with the danger of inflation. France and other European nations normally do their borrowing by selling securities to the public, and thus take away spending money rather than increasing credit.

Critics of the French double budgetary standard charge that the apparent absence of a deficit tends to weaken the resistance of legislatures to more and more spending schemes—and some add that American legislative resistance is low enough as it is.

As for the United States, Bell contends that the belief common 30 years ago that balancing the budget is the only proper standard has been generally abandoned. More, he contends that today's dogma of balancing the budget over a business cycle—that is, deficits in recessions to boost business, and surpluses during recoveries to curb inflation—doesn't work under present ciircumstances.

Bell holds that in recent years business recoveries have not brought full employment or full use of industrial capacity. He says the government must step in with deficit spending to assure these goals, with resultant prosperity balancing future budgets.

Most businessmen and many congressmen are pretty sure to line up against this deficit spending theory.

Professor Walks Rails For Hobby

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — Dr. Scott Hall of Transylvania College figures he has taken about five million steps along the nation's railroad tracks since 1945. Hall's hobby is railroad track walking.

The 56-year-old economics professor set a goal several years ago of walking every foot of track along a line from Philadelphia to San Francisco. Using vacations and holidays to step off 20 miles a day, he has covered all but 400 miles of the course. He plans to take up on his next vacation at the point where he left off walking on his last trip.

Lack Of Happy Love Verse Noted

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — Thom Gunn, a young British poet now teaching at the University of California, told a University of Buffalo audience that there's a scarcity of good poems about happy love.

"I guess," he said, "it's because all there is to say is 'How happy I am, I love you.' It's not an emotion that needs enlarging upon."

Unhappy love is another thing. Said Gunn:

America Outgrows Playground Areas

By LOUIS CASSELS

The situation will get progressively worse in the years ahead unless the nation moves swiftly to provide more parks, picnic grounds and swimming holes for a growing population with a growing amount of leisure time.

Craft's bureau was established in the Interior Department for the express purpose of promoting more and better facilities for camping, hiking, fishing, swimming, boating, and other outdoor recreation, including pleasure driving along scenic highways.

Crafts said in an interview that Americans, who now live mostly in cities, are becoming more avid every year in their pursuit of a patch of nature in which to picnic, swim, take a walk or just look at the scenery. During the 1950s, while the U.S. population grew 15 per cent, visits to national parks rose 86 per cent.

Increased mobility because of better cars and highways, and the additional leisure time provided by a shorter average work week, have contributed to the mounting demand for outdoor recreation facilities.

Moreover, projections of present trends show that the "people pressure" on recreation facilities is likely to triple by the end of this century.

On paper, it looks as though America should have abundant space for outdoor recreation. More than 250 million acres are publicly designated for that purpose, including 26 million acres of national parks, six million acres of state parks, and 180 million acres of national forests.

But, Crafts pointed out, "most of this land is where the people are not." Specifically, 72 per cent of the public recreational acreage is in western states, where 15 per cent of the population lives. The northeastern states, with 15 per cent of the people, have only 2 per cent of the park lands.

It will not build or operate any facilities itself. Its main jobs are (1) to coordinate the activities of the 20 or more federal agencies which are already involved directly or incidentally in the management of lands which can be used for outdoor recreation; and (2) to stimulate greater efforts by state and local governments, and private enterprise, to meet the rising demand for open-air playgrounds.

He expressed hope that congress will complete action soon on a bill authorizing his bureau to distribute 50 million dollars in matching grants to encourage states to develop plans for outdoor recreation programs. A few states, such as New York, Wisconsin, Pennsylvania, California, New Jersey, Massachusetts and Michigan, already are moving ahead in this area. But most are dragging their feet.

Crafts said private enterprise also can and should play a big part in providing outdoor recreation facilities. His bureau plans to stimulate such action by pointing out that such undertakings have proved highly profitable.

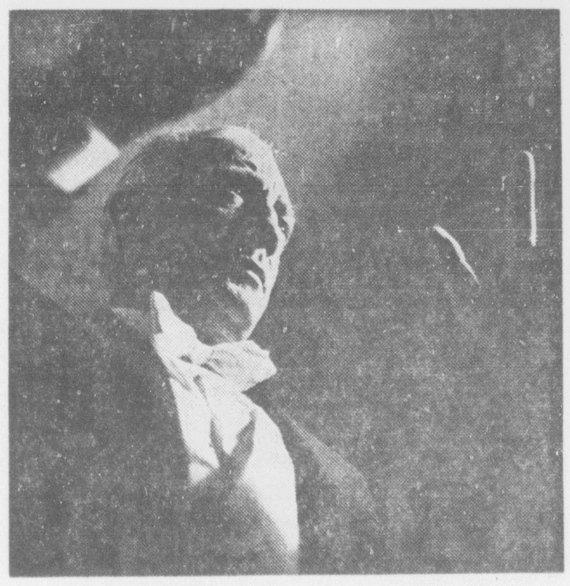
"There is a great opportunity here for some of the nation's rural depressed areas," he said. "Development of their natural scenic assets could give a tremendous economic boost to many areas, northern Minnesota and West Virginia, for example."

Another bill before congress would set up a land acquisition fund to be financed by proceeds from admission fees at federal recreation areas, motorboat gasoline taxes and other charges. This money would be used to buy new lands for national parks and seashores.

Expenditures for new recreation facilities are not frivolous, Crafts said, but an overdue national investment in assuring all Americans "permanent access to their outdoor heritage."

The opportunity to spend a few hours or days among the beauties of nature, he said, "is essential to the cultural, physical, moral and spiritual well-being of the American people."

Drive-in telephones are mounted on metal stands and shielded by brightly colored plastic hoods. They enable a motorist to pull up and telephone without leaving his car.



SYMPHONY CONCERT FOR FAIR

Cesare Cluaido of Kentfield will direct the "Concerto Al Aperto" (open air concert) of a stringed symphony group on the Northgate stage at the Marin Art and Garden Center in Ross as a feature of the Art and Garden Fair at 8:45 p. m. on July 6. The annual show, Marin's unusual county fair, will open July 3 and continue through July 7.
